

Teacher of Art Information for Candidates

The School

Oakham is one of the UK's most forward thinking and innovative co-educational boarding and day schools. The school has 1060 pupils aged 10-18, half of them boarders, half day pupils. With equal numbers of boys and girls since 1989, the School offers a truly co-educational environment.

Whilst attracting pupils from all over the country and abroad, the School enjoys a close relationship with the town and the surrounding area. Recently, Oakham School became one of the sponsors of an academic Sixth Form Academy, Harington School.

Oakham's strength lies in providing a spectacularly wide range of opportunities and activities which sit alongside an invigorating and challenging academic curriculum. In the Upper School, students choose between A-levels, Pre-U and BTEC qualifications, or the IB Diploma.

In recent years, the school has made it a priority to develop independent learning through a series of learning habits, which are increasingly embedded across the curriculum, both inside and outside the classroom. The 'Oakham learning journey' begins in the Lower School (situated on the Jerwoods Site), where boys and girls are admitted through the School's own entrance exam at 11 (there is also a small entry at 10). Pupils also enter the school at 13+ through the Common Entrance (CE) examination and we have a further major entry point at 16+.

Over many years, the school has not only been incredibly successful academically, but it is also recognised nationally for its outstanding achievements in sport, music, drama and the Duke of Edinburgh Award Scheme.

The School is at an incredibly exciting point in its history and has a very ambitious development plan for the next five years, including a new facility for the Performing Arts. Recently developments include a new teaching area for the Humanities, a state-of-the-art Faculty of Social Sciences building, and major redevelopments of the Sports Centre and Lower School. Oakham School does not stand still.

The Department

Art is a subject for everyone, not talented elite, and sensitive tuition helps each individual realise his or her personal strengths and to understand what it means to 'think like an artist'. Clear, purposeful and exciting projects directed by the teacher enable students to develop an understanding of the language of art. We aim to help pupils develop their creativity to reflect their own concerns and lives. A part of this is the appreciation of the Art of the past and of contemporary practice through discussion and through written and practical analysis.

There are four painting studios, a library, a sculpture studio (also a separate kiln room and welding area) a textiles studio with a separate sewing machine room and a gallery. The atmosphere of these studios enable boys and girls to work in a creative and personal manner, knowing that their endeavours will be encouraged and that their opinions will be listened to and respected by both their teachers and their peers. The specialist skills of our staff of six full time teachers give to each of the different studios a distinct atmosphere and the teaching programme has been constructed to allow children to experience these different disciplines.

The range of activities, media and materials available is extensive: in sculpture, for example stone carving, welding, casting and ceramics are offered; in textiles machine embroidery, batik and constructed bodices are taught, with students pushing the boundaries of their discipline towards sculpture and fine art. Conceptual thinking, through installation and photography, is an element of the IB Visual Arts programme, alongside the traditional Fine Art skills such as life class and oil painting, which form the core of the Pre U course. There is extensive use of the intaglio and relief print facilities. Examples of student work can be seen on the school website.

Exam results are consistently among the best in the school.

Public Examination Results

Academic performance is excellent. In the IB Diploma in 2017, students achieved a mean score of 36.1 points, with 90% of all Higher Level grades being 7, 6 or 5, and close to a quarter of students earned 40 or more points. At A-level, 13% of all examinations were graded A*, and 42% graded A* or A. Overall, combining across all qualifications, results for the Upper School equate to around 49% A-level grades A* or A or equivalent.

At GCSE level, typically around 65% of all examinations are awarded A* or A; in 2017, around a quarter achieved straight A*s and As, with around a third achieving five A*s or better.

Wider Curriculum

Oakham's total curriculum is particularly rich. The school has a strong reputation in the creative and performing arts. The Music Department has nearly 600 music lessons per week for pupils learning an instrument and there is a wide variety of orchestras, ensembles and groups, and over 270 children sing in the school choirs. At any one time there are some 45 music scholars in the school. Theatrical productions are frequent in the school's three venues for drama, including the professionally equipped Queen Elizabeth Theatre which is also used by the town and touring professional companies. The Richard Bull Centre houses a diversity of artistic enterprises from design technology to sculpture, textiles to jewellery. Scholarships are available in Art, Drama and Design & Technology. A whole range of societies and activities flourish, from 'dissection club' to chess and from the CCF to conservation.

Sport is outstanding and there is a considerable breadth of sport available at Oakham. (the school was the 'Daily Telegraph/Aviva Senior Sports School of the Year in 2009/10) The main sports are rugby, hockey and cricket for boys and hockey, netball and tennis for girls. In addition to this, the school has a strong reputation in sailing, rifle shooting, golf and swimming. In most years there are over fifty boys and girls who represent their county or country in a variety of sports.

Pupils are encouraged to be part of the wider life of the community and to see life beyond the East Midlands. This happens in a number of ways, through community service, through trips abroad, but most effectively through the Duke of Edinburgh Award Scheme. Around 250 pupils participate in D of E activities every year and the school has a strong track record of success having achieved well over 5000 awards since first offering the scheme in 1960.

The richness and range of this activity is achieved within a full boarding environment operating seven days a week, with the term punctuated by weekend Leave Outs and Exeats (half term holidays). Term time can be intense, but rewarding: holidays are long. Members of staff are expected to involve themselves fully in the life of the school, helping with games and other activities outside the classroom. Special skills are welcomed but what matters most is a willingness to give time and energy generously.

The pastoral side of the school is well developed. All our pupils are members of one of the 16 houses, each with its own Housemaster or Housemistress, and every pupil has his or her own tutor. Tutors are responsible for a group of about a dozen pupils. All members of staff (including the Senior Leadership Team) have a specific pastoral role at Oakham.

Oakham is a Church of England foundation with an Anglican chaplain and a chapel which is in use every day. The school warmly welcomes those of other denominations. No-one is excluded from appointment on religious grounds but anyone intolerant of Christianity is unlikely to feel comfortable in the Oakham community.

Timetable

The school runs seven days a week during term time, with a total curriculum of pupil activity both within the formal timetable and beyond it. A full-time teacher is expected to teach twenty periods of 50 minutes per week, as well as fulfilling the tutorial and activity commitments.

Newly Qualified Teachers

The school is fully accredited to participate in the ISTip NQT Induction Programme in order to provide qualified teacher status (QTS) at the conclusion of a newly qualified teacher's first year at Oakham.

Applicants without formal teaching qualifications or experience

Applicants without formal teaching qualifications or experience will be considered for this position.
