School Information

Pocklington School was founded by John Dolman in 1514 as part of a guild whose aims encompassed support for the poor and sick of the parish as well as the foundation of a school “for the bringing up of youth in virtue and learning”. The foundation was thus based on a commitment to the value of education and to the creation of opportunity for those who would take their place in a society which was finding itself increasingly in need of an expansion of education. Today there is in the school a similar commitment to quality of education and the upholding of high standards in all facets of life.

The school values its Christian foundation: of course pupils and staff comprise individuals of different faiths and beliefs but there is a desire to aspire to Christian values. School services take place on a regular basis in the local parish church.

There are currently 760 pupils in the Pocklington School Foundation, of whom 220 are at the Prep School (Reception to Year 6). These numbers include 100 boarders, in two boys’ houses (Dolman House and Fenwick-Smith House) and two girls’ houses (Faircote House and Orchard House).

Academic life is at the core of any school. Pocklington’s curriculum has been developed to motivate and stretch pupils. There are wide-ranging options in Year 9 and GCSE. Sixth Form AS and A2 subjects offer a diverse range of subjects and combinations. There is excellent careers and university advice. Music, drama and art thrive, as do sport, outdoor education, community service, the CCF and other extra-curricular activities.

The school is set in extensive grounds on the edge of Pocklington, a market town 12 miles east of York. Emphasis is given to the importance of the learning environment. The school is fortunate in having good playing fields and plenty of open space and gardens. There are excellent facilities, including a fine theatre, a Sixth Form Centre, a superb library, a new Art and Design Centre, a swimming pool, and other sports facilities. Architecturally, there is an excellent Victorian frontage.

The intention is that Pocklington's education will be humane, broad and characterised by a healthy mixture of rigour and enjoyment, to contribute to fullness of life for each boy and girl.

Aim, Values and Practice

Aim To Inspire for Life

Confidence We encourage individuals to be confident and considerate; fostering self-respect and self-belief.

Responsibility Personal responsibility and service to others are expected; both have opportunity for expression within the school and beyond.

Achievement In all areas of school life we seek to nurture talent and aspiration, to encourage perseverance and to prepare young people for the challenges of adult life.

Values We achieve our aim through a strong working relationship between pupils, staff and families which is founded on the following values:

Trust The Foundation's Christian ethos guides our caring and straightforward approach. We treat each other with respect and uphold our tradition as friendly and compassionate schools.

Truth We value debate which is open, honest and informed to stimulate creativity, intellectual curiosity and initiative.

Courage We challenge ourselves and each other to change for the better.

Practice We provide a community to be proud of, where pupils can explore, make mistakes, learn and grow. In order to do this:

Support We put the well-being of our pupils first, with excellent pastoral care.

Learning We encourage successful learning through effective teaching and a commitment to a broad education.

Recognition We recognise and reward success and commitment, progress and achievement.

Department Information

Pocklington School has long been recognised as having a strong music tradition, and music continues to play a very important part in the life of the school. The school has some 9 ensembles rehearsing each week and other groups arranged on an ad hoc basis. Singing is particularly strong, evident in the Chamber Choir and the thriving Musical Theatre Society.

The music department consists of two full time teachers; two part-time specialist teachers and thirteen instrumental and singing teachers. We are a friendly, hard working and mutually supportive Department who believe passionately in the value and the power of Music. We have an excellent reputation and we work to extremely high standards.

Music is taught to all pupils in Years 7 and 8, and is an optional subject in Year 9 and at GCSE where currently there are 2 sets following the AQA syllabus. Results are excellent with over 70% of students gaining grades A* and A in recent years. A good number of pupils are currently studying Music at GCE 'A' level where AQA is the chosen board. Pupils at 'A' level have in the past been successful in achieving high grades, and many pupils from Pocklington have continued their studies in music at university and conservatoire. Pupils have also been successful in the Associated Board of the Royal Schools of Music graded examinations, and the department prepares an average of 50 pupils for these each term. Many of these are accompanied by our peripatetic Piano teachers.

Following the opening of the Tom Stoppard Theatre in May 2001, the department is now located in the former Assembly Hall, with 9 adjacent rooms used by the peripatetic music teachers. Class teaching is done in the Recital Room - a large hall with a Steinway model B grand piano and PA system, and in the Keyboard Laboratory which holds 20 keyboards. In addition there is a smaller room used for GCSE and 'A' level teaching with 12 PCs running Cubase and Sibelius software.

The department provides a full and varied programme of concerts and recitals throughout the year, giving all students the opportunity to perform in ensembles and also allowing many the chance of performing solos. The school also hosts a series of masterclasses giving the students the opportunity to work with professional musicians. Pupils in the school enjoy music and there is strong support for the subject from staff and parents.

Pocklington Prep School is part of the Pocklington School Foundation where children aged 3 -11 are educated. All pupils from Year 3 – Year 6 have two class music lessons each week in which they learn, amongst other things, to read notation through recorder playing. Each week 100+ individual instrumental lessons are taught and about 50 pupils a year take ABRSM exams. Pupils may learn an instrument from their entry into the Prep School, but there is a subsidised scheme to encourage Year 4 pupils to take up an orchestral instrument.

Beyond the classroom there are many opportunities to make music. Pocklington Prep School Choir regularly wins trophies and awards at local music festivals, is invited to sing at a variety of events and makes a significant contribution to school concerts and services. The Orchestra and various other small ensembles such as the Recorder group, Flute Choir, Brass group and Guitar group also perform at concerts and other school events. The House Music Competition involves all pupils and the termly Mini- Concerts provide a platform for singers and instrumentalists to share their talents with others.

The application form can either be posted or e-mailed to you, or downloaded from the Foundation's website at www.pocklingtonschool.com. It should then be completed in full, including signature for hard copies, and returned by email, fax or post. If the form is faxed, the original must be provided at interview. CVs will not be accepted in substitution for completed application forms in the absence of good reason. Any CVs submitted will not be considered as part of the shortlisting process.

Please note that the amendments to the Exceptions Order 1975 (2013) provide that certain spent convictions and cautions are 'protected' and are not subject to disclosure to employers and cannot be taken into account. Guidance and criteria on the filtering of these cautions and convictions can be found at the Disclosure and Barring Service website www.gov.uk/dbs. You should be aware that the Foundation will institute its own checks on successful applicants for shortlisting with the Disclosure and Barring Service.

young persons (current or time expired) and whether you have been the subject of any Child Protection allegations or concerns and, if so, the outcome of any enquiry or disciplinary procedure. If you are not currently working with children but have done so in the past, the previous employer will be asked about those issues (and should be listed as a referee). Where neither your current nor previous employment has involved working with children, your current employer will still be asked about your suitability to work with children. They may, where appropriate, answer that your duties have not brought you into contact with children or young persons.

Policy Statement: Recruitment of Ex-offenders

As an organisation using the Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) checking service to assess applicants' suitability for positions of trust, Pocklington School Foundation complies fully with the Code of practice and undertakes to treat all applicants for positions fairly. It undertakes not to discriminate unfairly against any subject of a Disclosure on the basis of a conviction or other information revealed.

Pocklington School Foundation is committed to the fair treatment of its staff, potential staff or users of its services, regardless of race, gender, religion, sexual orientation, responsibilities for dependents, age, physical/mental disability or offending background.

We have this written policy on the recruitment of ex-offenders, which is given to all Disclosure applicants at the outset of the vetting process.

We actively promote equality of opportunity for all with the right mix of talent, skills and potential and welcome applicants from a wide range of candidates, including those with criminal records. We select all candidates for interview based on their skills, qualifications and experience.

A thorough assessment of all the employment opportunities available at Pocklington School Foundation has indicated that a disclosure application is both proportionate and relevant to the position concerned for all new governors, staff and most volunteers, and at the Enhanced Level. Where a Disclosure is required, all application forms, job adverts and recruitment briefs will contain a statement that a Disclosure will be requested in the event of the individual being offered the position.

Where a DBS check is to form part of the recruitment process, we encourage all applicants called for interview to provide details of their criminal record at an early stage in the application process. We request that this information is sent under separate, confidential cover, to a designated person within Pocklington School Foundation – the Bursar - and we guarantee that this information will only be seen by those who need to see it as part of the recruitment process.

Unless the nature of the position allows Pocklington School Foundation to ask questions about your entire criminal record, we only ask about 'unspent' convictions as defined in the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974.

We ensure that all those in Pocklington School Foundation who are involved in the recruitment process have been suitably trained to identify and assess the relevance and circumstances of offences. We also ensure that they have received appropriate guidance and training in the relevant legislation relating to the employment of ex-offenders, e.g. the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974.

At interview, or in a separate discussion, we ensure that an open and measured discussion takes place on the subject of any offences or other matter that might be relevant to the position. Failure to reveal information that is directly relevant to the position sought could lead to withdrawal of an offer of employment.

We make every subject of a DBS check aware of the existence of the Code of Practice and make a copy available on request. We undertake to discuss any matter revealed in a DBS check with the person seeking the position before withdrawing a conditional offer of employment.

Having a criminal record will not necessarily bar you from working with us. This will depend upon the nature of the position and the circumstances and background of your offences. We employ a risk-assessment based methodology.
