It is expected that the appointee will deliver Music Technology at A Level, as well as teaching other areas of the music curriculum, including key stage 3. The appointee will contribute to the School's wider music provision through assisting in the running and development of pop / rock/ jazz ensembles and will have the desire to actively promote the uptake of Music Technology as an A Level subject.

It is also expected that the appointee will be a performing musician of proven ability in rock and/or jazz, with first-hand experience of recording. The Teacher of Music Technology works alongside and reports directly to the Head of Academic Music, and the Director of Music.

Music Production Visiting Teacher of Music (VMT)

In addition to the part-time teaching position, there is the opportunity (for a suitable candidate) to take on the role of a Visiting Teacher of Music (VMT), to teach one-to-one lessons to pupils who wish to study the Rock School Music Production syllabus. VMTs are self-employed member of the Music School and are responsible for the timetabling and invoicing of pupils/parents. Invoices are requested to parents one-term in advance and parents are required to give a full-term's notice period, should they wish to discontinue lessons. Lesson fees for the academic year 2017-2018 are currently charged at £18 per half-hour. At present, there are a small number of pupils who are interested in these lessons, however the Music School are very happy for VMTs to offer trial lessons to pupils in order to advertise their instrument/subject. Space and allocation permitting, there may also the possibility for the right candidate to offer one-to-one VMT lessons on their first-instrumental study. Candidates who are interested in the additional VMT position should allude to this in their letter of application (stating, if applicable, which instrument they are able to teach on). If applying for the additional instrumental VMT role, a second interview and observed lesson will need to be arranged with both the Director of Music and Head of Academic Music.

This summer the School undertook the development of the internal sporting facilities including a new strength and conditioning room, a fitness suite, dance and martial arts studio and the addition of a climbing wall in a refurbished sports hall. Further development of the School estate and the provision of top quality facilities for the education of our pupils remains a priority. The School has embarked upon a rolling programme of classroom refurbishment and, thanks to the generosity of our trustees, Greenwich Hospital, a £400,000 Wi-Fi programme has facilitated wireless internet access across the whole school campus since 2013. ## THE MUSIC DEPARTMENT

The state-of-the-art Read Music School opened in 2008 and houses The Burns Recital Hall, a fully equipped concert venue seating 250 and housing two new grand pianos: a fine Bechstein and an outstanding Fazioli, one of only 110 made annually; a new, fully equipped, music technology suite including a fully furnished recording studio; 3 classrooms, including a keyboard laboratory; 15 specialist instrumental teaching rooms; well-stocked department library; a fleet of new Bechstein pianos for every room; purpose-built technology and recording facilities.

September 2015 saw the opening of a purpose-built three-room music technology suite. Complete with a recording studio, an iMac room running Logic Pro X and a control booth with a 24 channel TOFT mixing console - this is a fantastic new resource which would be the envy of many professional recording businesses.

Academic music forms an important part of the curriculum for Years 7 – 9 with a strong emphasis on practical music making and technology, as well as listening. Music is also offered at GCSE and A Level and pupils are prepared for entry to music college or university with many recent successes. There is a large and talented team of Visiting Music Teachers and over one third of pupils learn a musical instrument or take singing lessons. All pupils are encouraged to participate in the regular senior and junior lunchtime concerts and specialist teaching is available for the particularly gifted and talented. There is a yearlong series of academic music lectures and instrumental masterclasses given by professional musicians and – many leaders in their fields – on topics from Elgar's orchestration techniques and Bach's St John Passion to the life of a film composer and the use of computers in new music, all open to the public.

A wide variety of musical groups rehearse and perform regularly: Band, Orchestra, Chapel Choir, Show Choir, Choral Society, Big Band, Rock Band and various chamber music groups. Recent events have included performances at St Paul's Cathedral, St Martin-in-the-Fields and the Royal Albert Hall. The Chapel Choir has broadcast on BBC television and radio and has recorded several CDs. The School Band played at the opening of the National Maritime Museum's 75th Anniversary Exhibition in the presence of Her Majesty the Queen and at Twickenham during rugby internationals. The Band has also recorded several CDs and toured abroad to the USA, South Africa, Sri Lanka and are currently away in Canada for a three-week tour. There is an annual charity gala concert and many other concerts and recitals. Throughout the year there are lunchtime concerts in which visiting music teachers perform alongside their pupils. Parents appreciate these opportunities for contact with their children's instrumental teachers, and pupils find the performing experience invaluable.
