Nottingham High School

The High School is an independent day school (HMC), founded in 1513, which relocated to the Arboretum in 1867 and which became co-educational in 2015. A Junior School was established in 1905, moved into new accommodation in 1978 and admitted infants in September 2008.

The Infant and Junior School (ages 4-11) has over 250 students. The Senior School selects for entry at age 11+ and 16+. There are roughly 800 students in the Senior School and a vibrant Sixth Form of over 200. The school's move to co-education has been a great success with 180 girls in School during the third year of co-education and with further significant growth planned in future years.

The High School is a school of national reputation, the Headmaster having membership of HMC, the Infant and Junior Head membership of IAPS. Staff from cluster groups of local independent schools and national large day schools meet annually.

The High School has a very strong academic reputation and achieved the best examination results in the region last summer.

The School has an extensive pupil catchment and is first choice for much of Nottinghamshire, Derbyshire, Lincolnshire and Leicestershire. The School operates a number of coaches to transport students.

Students come from a wide range of backgrounds and the School is committed to maintaining a representative entry, supporting this with generous bursary and scholarship funds. Together, these mean that about a fifth of students receive some form of financial assistance.

Entry is by competitive assessment in the Spring Term.

The Future

The person appointed will be joining a dynamic innovative school. Staff are keen to embrace new methods and technology. The website www.nottinghamhigh.co.uk contains links to Twitter accounts for various parts of the school.

Each of the parts of Nottingham High School has a comprehensive development plan for the future focusing on teaching and learning, pastoral care and co-curricular activities as well as building developments. A first class Sixth Form Centre and a modern dining facility was completed in 2009 adding to new and refurbished facilities across all parts of the School. A major extension to the Junior School is currently under construction.

History at Nottingham High School

The History Department at Nottingham High School strives to achieve academic excellence within a teaching and learning framework that makes History engaging, relevant and challenging for all our students. We are a well-resourced Department, benefiting from an extensive departmental library of books and DVDs, and support our students to make consistent progress, developing into first rate historians with a genuine enthusiasm for the subject. Students gain not only an understanding of what happened in the past, but also the confidence and the skills to interpret it for themselves and discover what 'doing History' really involves.

There are four History teachers in the Department, including three full-time teachers, and the Learning Support Co-ordinator, who teachers in Key Stage Three. The staff in the History Department are all passionate about the importance of their subject and motivated by their desire to pass on this enthusiasm to our students. Lessons are designed to be varied, interactive and intellectually challenging, encouraging students to ask questions, have opinions and never accept the past at face value. We run a weekly History Club for our younger students and coordinate a variety of trips, curriculum visits and activities to bring History to life wherever possible.

Our curriculum at Key Stage 3 is varied, incorporating a broad range of themes and topics and a combination of British, European and Global History. In Year 7 students study the Norman Conquest and the huge changes that occurred in Britain thereafter in the way England was governed, the power of the Church and King and the ways in which human rights progressed as a result of developments like Magna Carta, the Black Death and the Peasants' Revolt. They also conduct a study into the Crusades, giving them an important insight into the interpretative nature of historical accounts. In Year 8 students study the period of Tudor and Stuart rule, broadening out into a thematic curriculum in Year 9 which explores the effects of technology, empire, war and revolution.

History is a popular subject at IGCSE, with about 75% of our students choosing to study the subject in Years 10 and 11. At IGCSE, students explore four areas of History that introduce them to important political, social and cultural concepts, rooted in studies of the First World War and its causes, the terrifying collapse of democracy in Weimar Germany and its descent into fascism, the dictatorship of Stalin and the history of the conflict in the Middle East since 1919. Students build on their ability to piece together historical evidence and are actively encouraged to debate the inevitably contentious issues that arise from these four fascinating topics. We are very proud of our IGCSE results record, which saw 88% of entries receiving an A or A* in 2016 and 2017.

Our A Level syllabus is designed to encourage a broader approach to historical study, and to foster a love of independent learning in our Sixth Form students. Units include The Early Tudors 1485-1558, The Cold War in Europe 1944-1995, Civil Rights in the USA 1865-1992 and a piece of individual research on Maoist China. These options provide students with an awareness of different national histories and a grounding in many key historical theories such as Marxism, capitalism, the Reformation and many more. In 2017 we achieved 96% A* - B at A Level, and 74% A*-A.

It is no surprise given such a rich A Level curriculum that many of our students choose to read History or History-related courses at undergraduate level, and we support a number in applications to Oxford and Cambridge each year. These students receive a wealth of specialist support in putting together strong applications for undergraduate study, with additional weekly reading groups and mock interviews being help for those who apply to Oxford Cambridge.

The High School is steeped in its own rich history and we seek to show our students that the past is, in fact, embedded in everything that they see around them, and therefore a crucial part of understanding the world in which they live.
