In the curriculum there is a high emphasis on active learning and practical approaches to Science.

In Year 7, 8 and 9, 12% of total curriculum time is devoted to Science.

There is a tradition of good examination success both at GCSE and 'A' Level. In the two OFSTED inspections the findings have been positive for Science.

Science students in Years 7 to 13 are actively involved in assessing their progress and setting personal targets with their teachers.

Among the developments the curriculum area has been pursuing over several years are:-

- 1 Improving equal opportunities and opening access for all students.
- 2 Recognising and introducing a wider variety of teaching styles in order to improve the quality of learning experiences.
