Candidate information pack

MFL Subject Leader

Vision and Mission

“The Royal School Wolverhampton” will present a unique offer for the local and the surrounding areas:

“An all- through, 4-19, co-educational, non-denominational day and boarding school, providing outstanding non-selective education for all its pupils, within a strong and supportive community ethos.”

This will build upon The Royal's distinctive heritage over the last 160 years, its record of academic excellence, its commitment to educating the whole person, and has the full support of our Patron, the Earl of Wessex. At the heart of our vision is our belief and track record of success in developing the whole person (emotionally, intellectually, socially, physically, creatively and spiritually, through a belief system, which is broadly Christian in its values, but welcoming pupils with other and no faith); alongside our commitment to ensuring all pupils are able to access those academic disciplines and subjects which are the passport to success at university and for future careers.

Through this holistic approach, we will develop the potential of every child, encourage leadership, resilience, responsibility and character, and achieve our high academic aspirations for all, enabling them to lead independent, purposeful and fulfilled adult lives in a rapidly changing, multilingual world.

Mr Mark Heywood
Principal

Dear Candidate,

Thank you for your interest in the post here at The Royal School, Wolverhampton (RSW). To help you decide on whether this is the school for you it is important for you to understand where we have come from and where we are going to. Building on its unique heritage, record of academic excellence, outstanding educational environment, and with the full support and endorsement of our Patron, the Earl of Wessex, the Governors are committed to supporting wider access for pupils of all abilities and backgrounds to The Royal's rich and diverse educational offer. The Royal School, Wolverhampton offers a unique proposition to families in Wolverhampton and its surrounding area of an 'all-through', 4-19, co-educational, non-denominational day and boarding school, with the capacity over time to provide for 1454 pupils, through a carefully managed programme of growth.

Established originally as an orphanage in the 1850s which attracted the patronage of Queen Victoria within a few years of its existence, RSW has a long tradition of promoting opportunity and social mobility within its local and wider boarding based community, and a commitment to the critical role of education in transforming aspirations and outcomes for its young people as well as its wider social role in local regeneration and cohesion. Formally designated as a school by George VIth in 1944, it continued to support pupils of greatest need and only amended its constitution in 1964 to incorporate fee - paying pupils (alongside an on-going and substantial means tested bursary and foundation programme), in response to the changing economic climate and local demographics. Whilst remaining fully non-selective and dedicated to supporting pupils in need, this change process has enabled RSW to combine its traditional values and academic offer with a global perspective, to the benefit of pupils, and to create a dynamic outward looking, culturally diverse, yet inclusive school community, within which pupils acquire the rich subject knowledge, life skills, understanding and aspiration to succeed locally, nationally and internationally.

At the heart of our vision for the future of "The Royal School, Wolverhampton" (RSW) is our belief and track record of success in educating the 'whole person' alongside our commitment to ensuring that all pupils are able to access the range of academic disciplines and facilitating subjects (with a particular emphasis on STEM), which are critical to keeping access open to Russell group universities. They will also acquire high level literacy, numeracy and oracy skills, with the longer term intention that higher level maths' qualifications across the range of disciplines Post 16, will become regarded as a 'life skill', applicable to all.

Excellence for all: inspiring individuals to achieve their personal best and to compete and contribute as local and global citizens.

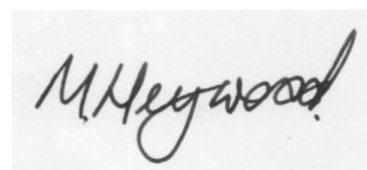

Whether pupils join RSW at Reception, Y7, Y9, the Sixth Form or at any other point of entry, they will achieve success through the ethos and opportunities provided by an 'all-through' approach, by our vertical House system (whereby older pupils act as mentors and model success) - aligned with exceptional age-related pastoral care; through the opportunities afforded by our mandatory extended day and Enrichment Programme which lasts until 4.45pm Monday to Thursday; all of which strategies have been evidenced through a range of recent national studies as having maximum impact on the motivation, self-esteem and attainment of those pupils at greatest disadvantage. Our mandatory and balanced co-curricular programme, which includes CCF for all, access to excellence through the Elite Swimming Academy (which also supports the largest UK, community based Learn to Swim programme with over a thousand pupils from the surrounding area enrolled on a weekly basis) sport, performing arts, cultural, aesthetic and intellectual development, will enable all pupils to engage with an aspirational culture, to become confident, resilient, caring and enterprising, and to operate as leaders, mentors and members of a team in its widest sense. The Boarding dimension and opportunities this affords to enrich the community will also support our fundamental ethos of 'wrap around care' through an approach to 'day boarding' which builds on the extended day, offering additional enrichment, including targeted support and intervention and supervised study sessions, as well as opportunities to socially interact with other boarding pupils and to take part in a boarding community evening meal. For those children who attract the Pupil Premium, Children who are looked after (CLA), and any child experiencing a temporary difficulty in home circumstances, this will be a key characteristic of RSW's on-going flexibility, and has been recognised nationally—as a significant factor in supporting those at most disadvantage to succeed.

RSW will build on its predecessor's long history of working constructively with the Local Authority in Wolverhampton, and more widely with Sandwell and Dudley, particularly in supporting CLA through its Boarding provision, and pupils with a Statement of Need/ SEND. RSW will continue to develop its role in broadening local choice and diversity, raising aspirations and outcomes (including stimulating greater access to Russell Group higher education), and addressing the urgent demand for more local pupil places, both at primary and secondary, as well as providing a supportive community for vulnerable pupils, as above, including as recently requested, unaccompanied refugee children who would benefit from the boarding environment.

RSW has a long tradition of fostering outstanding individuals by empowering them to grow, successfully challenge stereotypical assumptions (as evidenced over time in the high levels of attainment of girls in maths and science Post 16) and exceed their expectations within a nurturing and inclusive, culturally diverse community. RSW will build on these values and this success in developing the potential of pupils from all abilities and backgrounds through a holistic programme of academic challenge, personal and leadership development and wider curricular and 'boarding community' life, within a culture of mutual respect and consistently outstanding expectations of attendance and behaviour.

We welcome your application to be part of our community and would love you to visit and see the school in action or call us to talk things through.

Warm regards,

Mark Heywood
Principal

Job Information

Title: MFL Subject Leader

Salary: Based on experience and skills.

Start date: Easter 2018 or earlier

Contract type: Full time and permanent with responsibility allowance.

The Royal School is seeking to appoint an enthusiastic and talented Subject Leader of MFL to join our highly motivated and experienced languages team. The aptitude to teach a wide range of abilities from ages 11-18 is essential. We are looking for someone who can lead French/German and Spanish to GCSE and A level. Ambition and passion for the subject is crucial. Applications are invited from experienced teachers to join our highly committed, outstanding team.

The languages department is at an important stage in its growth and development with driving the highest standards further forward. With a recently appointed Faculty Head, our team of teachers strive to inspire and engage through using a wide range of pedagogical approaches; enabling our pupils to enjoy the benefits of a creative and innovative learning environment.

The Department is housed in 3 rooms. In year 7 pupils study all three languages and then opt for two languages in year 8. As from September 2017 pupils will be starting GCSEs in year 9. Regular pupil tracking is carried out based on the four MFL skills. MFL is an enthusiastic and well established department who seek to offer the best opportunities for students which include trips abroad, day visits, competitions and much more. MFL is a compulsory subject at GCSE level and we are looking for someone who will partake in an active role with these new developments.

The Royal School has achieved excellent academic results throughout its history and has an outstanding reputation for nurturing and developing confident, well-disciplined and successful individuals who progress successfully to the next stage of their life and career. We relish this next phase in its existence which enables us to review and build on our current success in preparing our young people for a rapidly evolving world. We hope that you will share in this passion for a broader educational opportunity.

Contribution to the broader curriculum would be an essential part of the role.

Understanding pupils' cultures, interests, needs, and perspectives through an ethos of respect

Teachers' Standards

PREAMBLE

Teachers make the education of their pupils their first concern, and are accountable for achieving the highest possible standards in work and conduct. Teachers act with honesty and integrity; have strong subject knowledge, keep their knowledge and skills as teachers up-to-date and are self-critical; forge positive professional relationships; and work with parents in the best interests of their pupils.

PART ONE: TEACHING

A teacher must:

1 Set high expectations which inspire, motivate and challenge pupils

- establish a safe and stimulating environment for pupils, rooted in mutual respect
- set goals that stretch and challenge pupils of all backgrounds, abilities and dispositions
- demonstrate consistently the positive attitudes, values and behaviour which are expected of pupils.

2 Promote good progress and outcomes by pupils

- be accountable for pupils' attainment, progress and outcomes
- be aware of pupils' capabilities and their prior knowledge, and plan teaching to build on these
- guide pupils to reflect on the progress they have made and their emerging needs
- demonstrate knowledge and understanding of how pupils learn and how this impacts on teaching
- encourage pupils to take a responsible and conscientious attitude to their own work and study.

3 Demonstrate good subject and curriculum knowledge

- have a secure knowledge of the relevant subject(s) and curriculum areas, foster and maintain pupils' interest in the subject, and address misunderstandings
- demonstrate a critical understanding of developments in the subject and curriculum areas, and promote the value of scholarship
- demonstrate an understanding of and take responsibility for promoting high standards of literacy, articulacy and the correct use of standard English, whatever the teacher's specialist subject
- if teaching early reading, demonstrate a clear understanding of systematic synthetic phonics
- if teaching early mathematics, demonstrate a clear understanding of appropriate teaching strategies.

4 Plan and teach well structured lessons

- impart knowledge and develop understanding through effective use of lesson time
- promote a love of learning and children's intellectual curiosity
- set homework and plan other out-of-class activities to consolidate and extend the knowledge and understanding pupils have acquired
- reflect systematically on the effectiveness of lessons and approaches to teaching
- contribute to the design and provision of an engaging curriculum within the relevant subject area(s).

5 Adapt teaching to respond to the strengths and needs of all pupils

- know when and how to differentiate appropriately, using approaches which enable pupils to be taught effectively
- have a secure understanding of how a range of factors can inhibit pupils' ability to learn, and how best to overcome these
- demonstrate an awareness of the physical, social and intellectual development of children, and know how to adapt teaching to support pupils' education at different stages of development
- have a clear understanding of the needs of all pupils, including those with special educational needs; those of high ability; those with English as an additional language; those with disabilities; and be able to use and evaluate distinctive teaching approaches to engage and support them.

6 Make accurate and productive use of assessment

- know and understand how to assess the relevant subject and curriculum areas, including statutory assessment requirements
- make use of formative and summative assessment to secure pupils' progress
- use relevant data to monitor progress, set targets, and plan subsequent lessons
- give pupils regular feedback, both orally and through accurate marking, and encourage pupils to respond to the feedback.

7 Manage behaviour effectively to ensure a good and safe learning environment

- have clear rules and routines for behaviour in classrooms, and take responsibility for promoting good and courteous behaviour both in classrooms and around the school, in accordance with the school's behaviour policy
- have high expectations of behaviour, and establish a framework for discipline with a range of strategies, using praise, sanctions and rewards consistently and fairly
- manage classes effectively, using approaches which are appropriate to pupils' needs in order to involve and motivate them
- maintain good relationships with pupils, exercise appropriate authority, and act decisively when necessary.

8 Fulfil wider professional responsibilities

- make a positive contribution to the wider life and ethos of the school
- develop effective professional relationships with colleagues, knowing how and when to draw on advice and specialist support
- deploy support staff effectively
- take responsibility for improving teaching through appropriate professional development, responding to advice and feedback from colleagues
- communicate effectively with parents with regard to pupils' achievements and well-being.

PART TWO: PERSONAL AND PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

A teacher is expected to demonstrate consistently high standards of personal and professional conduct. The following statements define the behaviour and attitudes which set the required standard for conduct throughout a teacher's career.

- Teachers uphold public trust in the profession and maintain high standards of ethics and behaviour, within and outside school, by:
 - treating pupils with dignity, building relationships rooted in mutual respect, and at all times observing proper boundaries appropriate to a teacher's professional position
 - having regard for the need to safeguard pupils' well-being, in accordance with statutory provisions
 - showing tolerance of and respect for the rights of others
 - not undermining fundamental British values, including democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect, and tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs
 - ensuring that personal beliefs are not expressed in ways which exploit pupils' vulnerability or might lead them to break the law.
- Teachers must have proper and professional regard for the ethos, policies and practices of the school in which they teach, and maintain high standards in their own attendance and punctuality.
- Teachers must have an understanding of, and always act within, the statutory frameworks which set out their professional duties and responsibilities.
