

JOB VACANCY:

FBB SCHOOLS: EDUCATIONAL PRACTITIONER

WHO ARE WE?

Football Beyond Borders is an education charity that uses the power of football to inspire young people from disadvantaged communities to achieve their goals and make their voices heard through our behaviour for learning programme. We use football as an engagement tool to tackle low educational attainment, poor school attendance and challenging behaviour. We work with over 400 young people each week who are passionate about football but are disengaged at school. We work across a range of schools in both a mainstream setting and in specialist provisions, with a key focus on Key Stage 3.

WHY JOIN US?

We think that this is the best place in the world to work. You'll be working with young people, staff and volunteers who are deeply passionate about everything that we do. We are a rapidly growing organisation, working with 400 young people at more than 25 schools across London. Our mission is to use the power of football to create an inclusive society. We are fighting for a world in which all young people have the opportunities to become all that they can be. This is an incredible role full of variety, excitement and working with passionate young people who love being a part of the FBB Family. You'll be joining one of the UK's fastest growing social sector organisations at a time of huge excitement and possibility.

PRINCIPLES OF OUR FBB SCHOOLS PROGRAMME

Our FBB Schools programme exists to transform the behaviour for learning and attitude to learning of students who love football but are disengaged at school. Our work builds on the strengths and potential of our young people through putting their passion for football at the heart of their learning.

This is a two year, weekly intervention delivered in partnership with primary and secondary schools across London. The programme is targeted at Key Stage 3 students, primarily boys, who are disengaged at school and come from economically disadvantaged backgrounds.

We believe real change can only be sustained through an embedded and holistic approach to our young people's development. We work to become deeply embedded in the lives of our participants and in the communities we are based in. We do this through working with our participants both in their schools and through our community based evening and holiday programmes. This integrated approach is supported through intensive parental and teacher engagement achieved through parents' evenings, teacher showcases and weekly text and phone updates.

KEY ASPECTS OF THE FBB SCHOOLS PROGRAMME

There are five parts to our FBB Schools programme, each of which is explored in more detail in the following pages. These five parts are:

Football-themed, project based learning classroom curriculum which works to develop the attitude to learning of our participants. Our students learn to believe in themselves as learners and become excited about learning as a tool for empowerment and growth.

Target setting, reward visits and end of year tours which work to develop the resilience and attitude to learning of our participants. Our students broaden their horizons and develop positive habits to drive sustained behavioural change.

Constraints-led, game-based football coaching curriculum which works to develop the teamwork, leadership and resilience of our participants. Our students learn to overcome challenges, learn from mistakes and support their team mates.

Reflective practice and tailored social and emotional interventions which works to develop the social awareness and self-awareness of our participants. Our students learn to identify and share their emotions and to develop effective coping mechanisms.

Parental and school engagement through meetings, calls and showcases which work to develop the self-awareness and social awareness of our participants. Our students learn to make explicit links between FBB and their school and home life.

PROGRAMME STRUCTURE

Our FBB Schools programme exists to transform the attendance, behaviour and attitude to learning of students who love football but are disengaged at school. It is delivered to groups of between 12 and 18 students on a weekly basis over a 2 year period.

Weekly Classroom Based Sessions (38 sessions): the FBB Curriculum is designed to maximise learning and engagement by putting a young person's passion for football at the heart of their learning. Each half-term contains a different project theme – football commentary, Messi vs. Ronaldo, Dream XI – which is designed to provide students with engaging tasks focused on developing their factual and creative writing skills, their oracy and their reading comprehension.

Weekly Pitch Based Sessions (38 sessions): the principle of transferability is at the heart of our coaching philosophy. We do not exist to create elite football players, but to develop soft skills in our participants. We do this by delivering our sessions in a constraints-led approach and player-led environment. Our coaching methodology is constructed to provide the participants with opportunities for progression of the principles needed in the wider world of Teamwork, Resilience and Leadership - our core values.

Half-termly (6 reward visits): reward and enrichment visits. Students who show commitment to the programme and who meet their targets for behaviour, school attendance and academic performance are given the opportunity to attend remarkable enrichment opportunities. These have included meeting their football heroes like Arsenal's Santi Cazorla and Manchester City and Ivory Coast footballer Yaya Toure, attending Premier League and international matches, and going behind the scenes and playing matches at top stadiums like Wembley and the Emirates Stadium.

Annually (1 annual tour): annual enrichment and reward tour. Students who meet their targets through- out the year are invited to participate in our annual football exchanges to Scotland and northern England. On these tours, participants stay with, train with and play against professional youth sides along with taking part in unique educational exchanges. These have included designing and conducting debates with their exchange partners on divisive issues in football such as racism and making a short film about their visit.
