Message from the Head

Jonathan Taylor, Head Teacher

At North Bridge House Senior Canonbury we are dedicated to providing our students with an outstanding education and to developing happy, confident young adults with the skills to become future leaders. Thanks to our small class sizes and flexible approach to timetabling we are able to tailor our teaching and support to meet the needs of every child.

Our team of specialist and dedicated teachers contains a blend of state, independent and international school experience, and provides the inspiration our pupils need to achieve their academic goals. We are immensely proud of our Value Added performance at A-Level – which places us in the top 15% of schools nationally – whilst almost half of our GCSE entries in 2017 were graded at A/7 or above. The focus on academic excellence is complemented by first class pastoral care and attention to the learning needs of every child.

With experts continuing to shed ever-more light on teenage learning patterns and the stages of their brain development, we believe that by effectively harnessing this research we can maximise the potential of each individual. Our work with the Teenage Sleep Foundation has led us to introduce a later start time for our Sixth Formers, which we believe has had an immeasurably beneficial impact on our students. We are also currently working with the University of York to better understand the impact of disruption on working memory.

To broaden our pupils' interests and help them develop new and transferable skills, we offer a diverse enrichment programme – often in conjunction with our sister schools. Last summer saw students from both our site and our Hampstead Senior school site visit Malawi to undertake charity work, whilst during Easter 2018 a number of our students will visit China to supplement their Mandarin lessons which are firmly embedded within our timetable.

At NBH Senior Canonbury we recognize that teachers are our most valuable resource and as such look after them accordingly. Not only do we take our commitment to professional development seriously – we are proud to be members of the Teacher Development Trust – but we also understand the importance of teacher wellbeing. Our school doors close at 6pm four days a week because we believe that work life balance is a necessity rather than a glib catch phrase.

The department

Ms Louise Sligar – Head of Department

Mr Jonathan Taylor – Teacher of History

Students study a rigorous and progressive history curriculum at North Bridge House. In Key Stage Three students develop historical skills through a rich and varied study of key societies such as the Romans, Normans, and the Tudors. Students also study the causes of 20th century conflict, the industrial revolution and thematic studies of expansion and exploration as well migration and empires.

Both Key Stages Four and Five follow the AQA specifications. For GCSE students complete a Period Study on Germany from 1890-1945 and a Wider World Depth Study focusing on conflict and tension between East and West between 1945 and 1972. They also undertake a thematic study on Britain; Migration Empires and the People from c.790 to the present day, and a British Depth Study on Elizabethan England which includes a site study.

At A-level, students currently complete a Breadth Study of Germany from 1871 through to reunification, and a Depth Study of Britain from 1906-1957. In addition, students must also complete a historical investigation, comprising of a 3000 word essay on an issue of their choice within the Stuart Period. However, unit choice is largely dictated by teacher specialism and there is scope for change for the 2018-19 Year 12 course.

With a focus on enquiry throughout the entire curriculum, students develop their ability progressively through each key stage to analyse and evaluate primary and secondary sources and historical interpretations, use second order concepts to make substantiated judgements and to demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the key features and characteristics of the period studied.

The History department has a track record of strong Value Added results at both GCSE and A-Level. In 2017, 30% of GCSE grades were A*, whilst at A-Level 80% of candidates achieved either A or B grades.
