Learning Support Department

The Learning Support Department

The Learning Support Department is recognised as one of the strengths of the school. The department has an excellent range of facilities and alternative curriculum options to ensure that our students with additional needs receive tailored provision that supports their learning.

The department, run by the SENCO, has one full time teacher and a team of Learning Support Assistants. The department is looking to appoint an enthusiastic and well qualified teacher for the maternity cover.

Matravers School is an inclusive school and the Learning Support Department is an essential part of providing this. We cater for students with learning needs across the full spectrum and are building a team to enable us to optimise the provision to enable every student to reach their potential.
