

"Effective teaching doesn't tell a person what to think, it teaches a person how to think. We all remember good teachers from our youth, and it was the ones who educated not just subjects, but the whole person."

- Frank Carle, Co-Founder & College President

"In my opinion the course is certainly worth it. You spend so much time teaching in different schools that you are comfortable in any situation. Austria is an amazingly beautiful country and the people are also friendly."

- Jonathon's experience

"As an ERASMUS student, it was interesting for me to see another side of teaching, one which I was definitely not familiar with! If you are studying teaching at university, I would recommend applying for the programme with an open mind."
