

Year 5 Teacher, Peponi House School

ESSENTIAL

The Year 5 Teacher must be an enthusiastic and passionate classroom practitioner with the experience necessary to teach English, humanities, RS and PSE to a class of up to 20 Year 5 children.

The teacher must have the vision and drive necessary to be able to make a significant contribution to Year 5 and to the Senior Department (Years 5 to 8) and must be prepared to teach another subject, based on the candidate's strengths and experience.

The willingness and ability to take a full and active part in a busy independent school; this might include games, extra-curricular activities, and the enthusiasm to accompany children on field trips.

Good IT skills will be essential in this post.

DESIRABLE

Experience of working in a preparatory school would be a distinct advantage.

Boundless energy and enthusiasm, a desire to travel and make the most of living in Kenya, the energy to enthuse children and colleagues; all these are desirable but not essential for the right candidate.

Any other academic subject knowledge would be an advantage, as would experience of incorporating ICT into the classroom.

SUMMARY of RESPONSIBILITIES

To include but not limited to:

The pastoral care of a Year 5 class.

Teaching English, Maths, Humanities, RS and PSE. Planning, preparation and delivery of first class lessons.

Close liaison with colleagues, including weekly planning meetings.

Attendance at Parent / Teacher meetings. Preparation of full end of term reports. Formative and summative assessment. Pupil progress tracking.

Responsibility for all classroom resources.

TERMS & BENEFITS

The initial contract is for two years, renewable thereafter.

All members of the academic staff are remunerated according to our own salary scale, which takes into account a qualified teacher's years of full-time experience and their responsibilities.

Benefits include: subsidised housing where available; membership of school pension scheme; medical insurance; interest-free car loan; generous educational concessions (for teachers with children of prep./secondary school age); flights for expatriate teachers at the beginning and end of a two year contract and annually thereafter.

Short-listed candidates will be informed of interview arrangements in due course. In the meantime, please address any queries to the Headmaster, Robert Blake.

Email: Headmaster@peponihouseschool.co.ke

Robert Blake
January 2017

