HEAD OF PRIMARY SCHOOL

FOR AUGUST 2018

Dear Applicant,

Thank you for your interest in the post of Head of Primary School at Dulwich College Seoul. After five years of successful development and growth under the skilful leadership of Mr Marcus Sherwood, we are seeking to appoint an experienced educator with a passion for learning and excellent interpersonal skills, confident and capable of taking us forward towards even greater success.

Dulwich College Seoul is a through school from Nursery to Year 13, located in Banpo, next door to Gangnam, just south and central of the Han River in Seoul. Ours is a green, attractive and affluent neighbourhood with easy access to everything a first-world capital can offer. We consistently attract a talented staff, alongside wonderful students (with ambitious parents), who work warmly together to produce fantastic results. We pride ourselves on maintaining a respectful, energetic and secure environment, where all can thrive and feel supported. We have a stated ambition to develop students who are the kindest in the Universe.

The College opened in 2010, the fourth of the eleven Dulwich schools and has since established itself as a world class institution. In contrast to some of our sister schools we are based in the city which provides benefits and challenges. While space may be at a premium, our facilities are of an exceptional quality and are very well-used. The local area provides an extension to our footprint with access to the river, additional sports facilities, outstanding arts venues and the many talented people who live in Seoul. Consequently, there is a full and vibrant programme of academics and activities in and out of the classroom for all students.

The College's roll is 650 students and currently capped by license to 700, with the Primary roll standing at just under 400. The Primary School consists of an Early Years Foundation Stage unit in a world-class learning environment featuring continuous learning indoor and outdoor, and then three 20-student strong classes in Years 1-6, again each with access to out of classroom learning spaces. Any visitor to the College will notice a focused atmosphere for learning, fun, energy and very impressive people throughout.

I hope you find the information provided helpful. The College website at www.dulwich-seoul.kr and the Dulwich College Seoul Facebook page will also help you learn more about what we believe in.

I look forward to receiving your application.

Yours sincerely,

Graeme Salt
Headmaster

The Dulwich College International group (DCI) was founded on Dulwich College's vision to take its nearly 400 years of educational experience, academic excellence and innovation abroad. The first of the British independent schools to venture overseas, Dulwich College opened its first school in Shanghai in 2003. Since then, DCI's enrolment has grown to over 6,000 students, from over 60 countries attending Colleges in Beijing, Seoul, Shanghai (Jinqiao in Pudong and Minhang in Puxi), Singapore, Suzhou and Yangon and International High Schools in Suzhou, Zhuhai and Shanghai.

DCI has grown into a family of schools embracing the same core values and practices of Dulwich College and is committed to inspiring our students in every facet of their education. This strategic commitment to a powerful network is expressed as 'one College, many campuses'. The group is committed to leveraging its position as a global family of schools to deliver an inspiring education to its students and provide its teachers with enriching and rewarding careers. It follows a simple and clear set of values which govern each College's development. These are an unwavering commitment to put the student first, aiming for excellence in everything we do and recognising that invention has a substantial part to play in DCI's growth and success.

Utilising its geographical diversity and shared knowledge base, the group provides the highest quality of education to its students, offering them unique opportunities for personal development and success.

The Dulwich College educational philosophy places an equal emphasis on our students' intellectual and personal development, encouraging them to learn from everything they do. We expect our teachers to inspire students, taking them on a journey of discovery to find where their individual talents lie. We want our students to think and learn independently.

We have built on our experience as educators to shape our approach to a wide variety of interests and learning styles. The close collaboration among our Colleges stimulates innovation and encourages an international worldview, which we believe provides students with an advantage in the future they will face.

Each of the schools is subject to accreditation through CIS, IBO, CIE and the UK Independent Schools Inspectorate. Dulwich College (DCL) inspects each College annually and is represented within the body governing the whole group and similar bodies for each College. The dynamic partnership between Dulwich College in London and the DCI group aims to establish the Dulwich College vision in Asia and further afield by bringing the best education to students around the world.

Dulwich College was founded in 1619 by Edward Alleyn, renowned Elizabethan and Jacobean actor. It is an academically selective boys' school in south London attracting boys from the top 15% of the UK academic range. It is one of the UK's most prestigious independent schools and has the largest overseas network of any British independent school.

Dulwich is recognised as a pioneer in education. It introduced the Modern Curriculum in the 1880s under the then Master, Canon Carver. It was one of the first schools in the UK to introduce Mandarin Chinese into the curriculum and was the first of the British independent schools to open a campus in 1996 in Asia. It is also renowned for the Dulwich Experiment in the Forties and Fifties, which admitted students on a needs-blind basis based on academic ability alone. One of its most famous products was Eddie George, a Dulwich postmaster's son, who became Governor of the Bank of England. A needs-blind policy still exists with approximately a third of its 1,500 students on bursaries or scholarships.

Dulwich College aims to create an environment which promotes an independent work ethic and encourages all pupils to acquire a love of learning. It is committed to nurturing a supportive community which encourages a sense of social responsibility and spiritual and personal development, ensuring that pupils from a variety of backgrounds can feel secure and equally valued. These are ambitions shared by the international schools. Elsewhere, Dulwich College is actively involved with supporting and sharing best practice and educational initiatives between private and state sector education.

Under the Worldwide Charter, Dulwich College is actively involved at every level of the DCI schools with collaborative projects between teachers and students, inspections and annual visits from either The Master and Deputy Master (External).

A BRIEF GUIDE TO SEOUL

Situated on the Han River, Seoul is an enigmatic city that embraces the latest advances in technological innovation while preserving its vibrant 5,000 year old traditions and culture. With a population of over 11 million people and a large expatriate community warmly welcomed by its Korean hosts, it has something for everyone. Seoul has four distinct seasons cycling through hot, humid summers to cold, dry winters with beautiful spring and autumn months in between. The abundant trees of Seoul are transformed from magnificent spring blossom to verdant green, a startling autumnal range and then to clean winter branches through the year. Air pollution is on a par with modern western cities. Winter sees plenty of snow in the hills north of the city, which are a popular destination for hikers and skiers, with the closest slopes accessible via the city's subway system. The subway is a cheap, safe and speedy way to travel around the city with the integrated T card system providing even greater convenience. The T card can also be used on buses and taxis.

As an example of the most wired city in the world, the subway provides a full Wi-Fi connection throughout. Announcements on trains and buses are repeated in English with all subway notices in both languages which makes for ease of travel throughout the city.

There is a vibrant cultural life in Seoul with classical and modern music, traditional and innovative art, national and international drama and film of all types on offer. The school is situated just south of the river in the prosperous Seocho District, close to the Gangnam District (made famous by Psy) and the French district's collection of bars, restaurants and bakeries, and within striking distance of the most cosmopolitan of Seoul's districts, Itaewon. Food and eating out are a national obsession and Seoul offers a multitude of options to suit all palates, from world class Korean barbeque and international cuisines to ubiquitous fast food and street food outlets. There are lots of options for sport, both as a participant and as a spectator. There are many miles of cycle tracks along the Han, walking trails within the city, rock climbing sites, sports centres and clubs to cater for team sports. Professional teams in football, basketball, volleyball and, in particular, baseball draw large and passionate crowds resulting in sporting experiences beyond the norm. Children's playgrounds abound to cater for the majority of families who reside in apartments. Seoul is a fantastic base from which to explore North and East Asia with an excellent selection of flights from the ultra-modern Incheon Airport, the main airport serving Seoul.
