

WELLINGTON
COLLEGE

Job Description

Job Title:	English Teacher
Date:	April 2021
Department:	English
Reports To:	Head of English
Responsible For:	The successful delivery of the English curriculum, Year 9 – 13, and related co-curricular and enrichment

Purpose of the Position:

To fulfil the teaching requirements as directed by the Head of Department, according to the overall aims of the school.

To offer support to the learning, pastoral and co-curricular needs of individual students through the school's pastoral policy and core values.

Departmental Information

The English Department is one of the largest and most successful at Wellington. There are currently sixteen highly committed teachers who strive for excellence, enjoying a range of traditional and progressive methodology and contributing to the academic life of the College. English Literature is a popular choice in the 6th Form, for both A Level and the IB Diploma Programme, with pupil numbers ranging between 190 and 220 each year.

The Department is situated in an ecologically designed building with woodland views, shared with Philosophy, Religion, Wellbeing and Psychology. It features 12 bright English classrooms with adaptive furniture and writeable walls and a departmental library (the Dr Joanna Seldon Reading Room). The air-conditioning system is eco-friendly and all IT provision is wireless.

We pride ourselves in an enrichment programme that goes from strength to strength, including LitSoc (half-termly extension events); Preparation for Reading English at University (weekly extension group, invite-only); Creative Writing and Public Speaking. The Department also collaborates in College extension, for example in the inspirational Fireside Talks that welcome external performers and speakers on topical issues, or cross-curricular creative work with other academic departments or the Arts. We also showcase pupil's academic writing in a bi-annual magazine. Our pupils participate successfully in external and internal essays and creative writing competitions, attend academic lectures on site, in London or in Oxford, as well as contributing impressively to College Debating and to drama productions of a professional standard.

Curriculum

In the Upper School, we offer Edexcel Literature A Level and the IB Higher and Standard Level courses, but also the IB Literature and Performance (shared with the Drama Department). In the Lower School, our Year 9 (Third Form) pupils follow a regularly updated, bespoke programme, that prepares them for the Edexcel IGCSE Language and Literature qualifications but also strives to cultivate a love of reading, and to expose them to topical social and cultural debates.

Most significantly, we are a happy and cohesive Department, pioneering an engaged and engaging approach to English which is open, discursive and scholarly. We embrace diversity and inclusion in our curriculum choices and enjoy devising and sharing original schemes of work; we collaborate and strive to stretch ourselves as subject specialists, not only as classroom teachers but also as avid readers. Our pupils should feel supported and challenged from the moment they step into one of our lessons; our results are excellent, the fruit of the thoroughness, dedication and enthusiasm of all colleagues.

Main Tasks and Responsibilities:

WELLINGTON COLLEGE

In addition to the general duties of a teacher at Wellington (see Purpose of the Position), the post holder is expected to:

- teach across the full age range from Year 9 to Year 13
- teach a standard timetable allocation (currently around 36 lessons of 55 minutes in a twelve day timetable cycle)
- play a role in the extra-curricular life of the Department, including contributing to: off-timetable workshops, extension programmes, pre-university seminars, competitions, student support, internal examinations etc.
- make a positive contribution to the efficient running of the Department, including setting and marking examinations, attending departmental meetings, undertaking administrative and other tasks as delegated by the Head of Department
- enhance the quality of teaching and learning in the Department and wider College through sharing resources and good practice, lesson observation, collaborative teaching, mentoring and active participation in continuing professional development
- actively safeguard and promote the welfare of children
- support the College's aims and objectives for teaching and learning and the College values
- adhere to and promote all College policies and procedures

Beyond the Classroom

All teachers at Wellington are expected to contribute fully to the extra-curricular and pastoral life of the College. It is the norm for teachers to coach sport at the appropriate level and to help deliver service or CCF activities on Wednesday afternoons. As tutors, teachers are allocated to a Boarding or Day House and are responsible for monitoring and enhancing the academic and pastoral welfare of a group of pupils within that House. This involves meeting the pupils regularly both individually and as a group, liaising between teachers and parents, taking supervision duties in the house and being involved generally in the House community.

The College expects its teachers to contribute whole-heartedly to other aspects of school life by drawing upon their own interests and enthusiasms. The richness of the school depends upon teachers who, for example, coach games, direct plays, support and organise Society meetings and take pupils on trips to concerts/theatre locally and in London.

A full seven-day-a-week boarding school such as Wellington must obviously look after and cater for the pupils entrusted to it at weekends. Staff should be aware that Wellington teaches on Saturday mornings and expects teachers to participate enthusiastically in the activities that are offered to pupils during weekends, including: sport, social events, Chapel services, musical rehearsals and many other things.
