

SEVENOAKS SCHOOL

JOB DESCRIPTION

Appointment of Assistant Director of Music from September 2020

The School

Founded in 1432, Sevenoaks enjoys a global reputation as a centre of academic excellence and a flagship school for the International Baccalaureate. A co-educational day and boarding school, it offers a stimulating, intellectually demanding and balanced education for pupils from the age of 11 to 18.

Inspiring facilities, together with expert, enthusiastic and imaginative teaching, provide rich opportunities for students participating in lessons, and a wide variety of sports and the performing arts.

The school's international make-up and outlook promote the principles of tolerance and open-mindedness. About 350 pupils board in the seven boarding houses, and students originate from some 40 countries worldwide.

In 2013 the Independent Schools Inspectorate (ISI) awarded Sevenoaks School the rare accolade of 'Exceptional' for its students' achievement. Sevenoaks was also the highest performing fully co-educational school, and the one with the largest cohort, in The Sunday Times Parent Power's top 50 fee-paying schools for the IB in 2015. In November 2017 we were, for the second time in 10 years, awarded The Sunday Times Independent School of the Year.

This excellence is achieved by bright, motivated students, inspired by highly qualified and dedicated teachers in well-resourced classrooms. The school has over 150 teaching staff, well supported by a large number of ancillary staff. A professional pastoral team of specialist tutors, boarding house staff and year heads give care and guidance, promoting student welfare and happiness. The mutual respect shared by students and staff generates a harmonious and purposeful atmosphere.

The Campus

The school is situated in the Kent market town of Sevenoaks, and has a prime position at the top of the High Street. The 100-acre site, which includes a number of listed buildings, is beautifully landscaped and adjoins the medieval deer park of Knole. London is only a 30-minute train journey away. Gatwick International Airport is also only 30 minutes away, and there are good transport links to other London airports and the Channel Tunnel.

The school's first-class resources and facilities include a superb sports centre (The Sennocke Centre) opened in 2005. A state-of-the-art performing arts centre (The Space), which provides four outstanding venues for music and drama, was opened in 2010. In 2018 a Science & Technology Centre and a Sixth Form Global Study Centre opened followed by a new boarding house in 2019.

Teaching at Sevenoaks School

Teaching here is immensely rewarding: we work in high-performing teams towards a shared endeavour. Everyone appointed to teach at Sevenoaks School is expected to actively engage in all aspects of our broad and well-rounded education.

We want all our pupils to enjoy their subjects, to be inspired by their teachers and to become independent, lifelong learners. Teachers are enthusiastic and well-qualified graduates. We have an exceptionally lively, talented and committed staff body. We welcome applications from experienced teachers and newly-qualified teachers but can also provide training including PGCE for those joining the profession at whatever stage. All new staff undertake a comprehensive induction programme. Sevenoaks is committed to supporting its staff with training and professional development tailored to staff needs and interests.

All teachers are involved in proactive pastoral care. All teachers participate in the co-curriculum and, as our outreach activities expand, contribute to our work with local pupils and schools. Teachers at Sevenoaks are innovative and forward-thinking many are involved in the Institutes of Teaching & Learning, Higher Education & Professional Insight, and Service & Social Impact, shaping further development and initiatives for students and staff alike.

Curriculum

At every stage, we offer a broad, deep and integrated curriculum. Every pupil is encouraged to be curious, creative, critically aware, and to develop his or her passion and talent to the full. Life is fast-paced, dynamic, and expectations are high. At the same time, the school seeks to cultivate in its pupils the habit of reflecting on their learning, and on how they contribute to society more broadly. Ambitious and principled, confident and compassionate, our pupils are prepared for leadership and teamwork in the wider world.

Regular assemblies, tutor group meetings and a programme of talks help the social and emotional understanding in our pupils, and a long tradition of voluntary service and local and international charity projects advances a core set of values across the student body.

In order to support our ethos and aims, we have developed a number of Sevenoaks School Certificate courses (SSCs), which students take instead of GCSEs, in English Literature, the Expressive Arts and Technology. The SSCs (which are recognised by UCAS) give teachers the independence and creative scope to shape a richly satisfying curriculum. In Years 7-11 all students take courses in critical thinking developed by the school. The Middle School Diploma, launched in Year 9 in September 2017, recognises the learning that takes place both within and outside the classroom and seven core values: creativity, independent learning, critical thinking, international understanding, collaboration, self-awareness and social responsibility.

All of the 450-plus Sixth Form students pursue the International Baccalaureate Diploma, a programme the school has delivered for 40 years. The Diploma is the best preparation for university and for work in a world of global competition. Even more important, it genuinely develops a rich inner life in our students, opening their minds to connections and possibilities within and across the subject disciplines.

It is no surprise that our students leave Sevenoaks to study a wide range of courses in the UK and around the world. Each year all leaving students progress to the world's top universities, including up to 25% to Oxford and Cambridge, and 25 or more students to leading US and international universities. They do so with an enlarged capacity for independent thought and intellectual risk-taking, a strong appetite for learning, and equipped with the skills and personal qualities conducive to a happy and successful life.

The Music Department

Music is a central part of a Sevenoaks education. Housed in a world-class, award-winning facility, The Space, incorporating two performance spaces for concerts, classrooms and practice rooms overlooking Knole Park, the Music department is exceptionally vibrant and aspirational. Music is a core subject in Years 7 to 9, and then an option at KS4, where students follow the SSC. In the Sixth Form, students take IB Music at Higher or Standard Level. Curricular music is a significant academic discipline. Most students participate in the musical life of the school, and there is a spirit of genuine inclusiveness, as well as a number of outstanding young musicians who attend the Junior London music schools. Recent musical alumni include James McVinnie (formerly Assistant Organist at Westminster Abbey), Hannah Dawson (Sacconi Quartet), and Alec Frank-Gemmill (Principal Horn with the Scottish Chamber Orchestra), Sophie Westbrooke, Woodwind category winner, BBC Young Musician of the Year, 2014. A number of students win choral and organ scholarships, and a number go on to read Music at university. About 150 students were entered for Associated Board exams last year.

There is an ambitious programme of ensembles and concerts. There are two orchestras, two big bands, a wind band, string chamber orchestra, choral society, junior and senior chamber choirs and numerous other ensembles. Chamber music is strong at the school, with some thirty one to a part ensembles with regular finalists at the Pro Corda Schools Chamber Music Festival.

Under the leadership of the Director of Music, there are currently three academic music teachers, as well as a Head of Vocal and Instrumental Studies, some 45 visiting instrumental music teachers and two graduate music assistants.

The Role: Assistant Director of Music

The Assistant Director of Music reports to the Director of Music. The precise job description may vary according to the skills and interests of the successful candidate, but is likely to include:

- Teaching academic music throughout the school, at KS3, SSC and IB
- Taking particular responsibility for KS3 music, including curriculum development and the co-curricular programme. This is a key part of the role and the ability to inspire students of this age group will be a crucial factor in the appointment
- Leadership of one or more of the senior ensembles, possibly including choral society
- Assistance with the department's chamber music programme
- Some additional theory and aural teaching
- Interest in collaboration between Music and Drama
- Contribution within the wider school community and to the school's holiday programme of both music trips and summer courses.

- A willingness to be involved with the wider local community and with the outreach programme to local maintained schools.

The successful candidate is likely to demonstrate:

- Knowledge of recent developments in classroom music
- Excellent keyboard skills
- Vocal/choral experience and/or orchestral/instrumental experience
- Some conducting or directing experience
- Familiarity with music technology, including Sibelius, Cubase and/or Logic software packages
