It is with great anticipation that I join Genesis Global School team as the School Director. I am encouraged by the rapid growth and innovation that Genesis has displayed over its first decade of existence. A commitment to value-led education and a holistic, student-centered approach to learning is consistent with best practices in education. I'm excited to have the opportunity to guide Genesis Global School through continued improvement in establishing itself as a destination for families who share our ethos and wish to position their children to excel in their post-secondary education.

Genesis Global School is committed to stewardship of the planet and its people's and we have an extensive community service and sustainability program which is gaining traction with our students.

We are committed to continue to do our part in cultivating this belief in stewardship within our students. We believe that our graduates will leave Genesis with the skills, attitude and integrity to provide leadership and make a difference in their communities.
