Dear Colleague

Humanities Teacher: History

Thank you for your enquiry about the post of Humanities Teacher at Aldworth School. Please consider the information contained within the application pack carefully and I hope that, having considered the information available, you are able to submit an application.

The successful applicant can be assured of the support of a number of excellent colleagues, experienced and organised Curriculum Leader as well as being able to work with members of the Senior Leadership Team. If you are appointed you will benefit from our INSET programme and will have access to a high quality induction process.

This is a truly comprehensive school in which boys and girls, regardless of ability and background are provided with the opportunities to succeed. For those who have special educational needs we offer in-class and individual support. We also take pride in developing our more able students both within lessons and in additional extra-curricular activities.

Aldworth has built up the reputation of being a very successful, popular and inclusive school. We believe in developing our staff and have a comprehensive induction programme. Many staff have benefitted from studying for additional qualifications, including Masters Degrees and Specialist Higher Diplomas which are funded by the school. Staff morale is high and teachers are ambitious for themselves and the students they teach.

This is an exciting time for Aldworth School, which continues to go from strength to strength as numbers on roll have steadily increased over recent years and we are close to our maximum capacity of one thousand students. We are over-subscribed for our Year 7 intake in September 2017 and oversubscribed in the current Years 7, 8 9 and 10. With an extremely healthy financial position we are also expanding our staffing structure.

We were inspected by OFSTED in March and received an overall requires improvement judgement (behaviour and welfare good). Whilst we were disappointed with this judgement we are confident of making rapid progress over the months to come and this is an exciting opportunity for an ambitious colleague to join the team and make a difference.

The school has an excellent ethos, reflected in some of the comments from our 2017 OFSTED inspection:-

- Leaders have taken decisive action to improve behaviour across the school. As a result, pupils' conduct is good.
- The governors have made significant changes to the way they work. They have made the most of the opportunities to restructure and refresh their work following the renaming of the school in 2013.

- Pupils receive good guidance on their next steps. As a result, more pupils than the national and local average go on to further education and employment.
- The Headteacher and his leaders are ambitious for the pupils in their care. They have high aspirations for pupils and have overseen a rise in the standards of attainment.
- Parents are very supportive of the school and report that their children are well-looked after.
- Pupils are proud of their school. They are smartly dressed and are respectful towards staff and visitors alike.
- Leaders know the strengths and weaknesses in the school.
- The arrangements for safeguarding are effective. There are good systems in place that ensure that pupils are safe and well cared for.
- There are many opportunities for pupils to develop their leadership skills. These include taking up roles as mentors, sports leaders and members of the students' council.
- Pupils are proud of their work and the standard of presentation is improving across all the subjects. When they receive useful advice, they act on this and commit to refine their work. Pupils are increasingly confident when tackling more challenging work.
- The achievement of the most able pupils is recognised as a priority for leaders.
- Reading is well established in the school. There are good systems to promote reading and useful support for pupils who need additional help to catch up. Consequently, pupils who arrive with lower than average reading scores, make good progress following targeted intervention.

We have a very positive but supportive and caring ethos in which we focus on the progress of each individual student. We welcome applications from experienced teachers, who are ambitious and have the potential for further promotion. Please refer to the job description and person specifications.

We take the safety of our students very seriously and as such appointments will be subject to full safeguarding checks, including an enhanced DBS check. The closing date for applications is Wednesday 21 June 2017 at 5pm and interviews will take place week commencing 26 June 2017. I look forward to receiving your application. In the meantime if you have any queries about the position, or if you would like to visit the school, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Yours sincerely

Denis McCabe
