

Oakwood School has the following Teaching Staff vacancy:

Teacher of Mathematics with whole school responsibility for cross-curricular numeracy (TMPS + TLR 2a)

Salary negotiable depending on experience, expertise and performance at interview and potential for a recruitment incentive of between £2000 and £5000 for an outstanding candidate.

Owing to the school expanding, we require an enthusiastic and highly motivated Maths teacher to join our dedicated team from September 2019. Applications are welcome from NQTs, experienced teachers and non-Mathematic specialists with an enthusiasm for the subject and a willingness to convert. The ability to offer a second subject will be an advantage.

Maths is a thriving subject which is consistently above the national average for the percentage of students making more than expected progress and achieving 9-7 and 9-4 in GCSEs. As an expanding school, Oakwood is looking to appoint a motivated and committed teacher with a passion for teaching Maths throughout Key Stages 3 and 4.

This role presents an exciting opportunity to a candidate who is keen to expand their skills and expertise by leading this new initiative of Numeracy Co-ordinator at Oakwood School. This role would allow scope to lead and enhance the teaching of mathematics across the school and the chance to have a real input upon the development of the numeracy skills of all of our students.

We are looking for a colleague who is:

- Highly successful classroom practitioner
- Enthusiastic and hardworking team player
- Able to achieve high levels of student engagement, challenge and progress
- Inspirational with the ability to motivate students

In return we offer professional development, leadership training and support programmes for candidates with a potential for promotion and career development. This is an exciting time to be joining Oakwood, as it continues to progress towards becoming a great school in the future.
