Welcome to Edith Neville!

Edith Neville is the community primary school of Somers Town in the London Borough of Camden. It is a one-form entry school with a nursery and Family Centre. The school serves a diverse local community and is highly inclusive. The school prides itself on encouraging aspiration, supporting every child according to his or her needs, setting high standards and nurturing wellbeing. Our well established Family Centre works alongside the school to empower parents to support their children's learning and overall development.

The school is a few minutes away from St Pancras International and King's Cross stations, and has strong relationships with many of its cultural and educational neighbours to enhance curriculum activities and quality of life.

Vision

Our vision is for Edith Neville Primary School to be an excellent centre of learning for local families, helping children to become all they are capable of becoming, through the active, coordinated support of staff, parents, the local authority, other agencies and the local community.

We aim to:

- Embed lifelong learning
- Nurture wellbeing
- Encourage aspiration
- Develop creative thinking
- Build confidence and resilience
- Instil social and moral values of fairness, kindness, honesty and courage
- Foster respect and appreciation of our similarities and differences

Ethos

Ethos

The ethos that supports these aims is as:

A learning school -Reviewing, assessing, and drawing lessons from practice and research; working with families to support their children's learning; listening to each other; tailoring our approach according to the needs of individual children; being curious and challenging each other; drawing on the cultural offer of our location

An inclusive school -Recognising and encouraging individuality; working to strengths and addressing weaknesses; recognising and celebrating difference; setting examples of kindness, social concern and equality; engaging with our community; respecting different cultures and perspectives

A nurturing school -Focusing on physical, mental and emotional wellbeing alongside academic attainment; looking out for each other; working as a team at every level; behaving with empathy and honesty, involving families, community and neighbours in learning together

A forward-looking school -Setting high standards; pursuing and achieving goals; confidence building; instilling aspiration; preparing children for ongoing education and life chances; working for social integration

Our New Building

We moved into our school building in January 2020

In January 2020, after an intensive period of planning and design, phase 1 of the completion of a new building and grounds for Edith Neville Primary School was concluded. The new design is the result of months of close work between architects Hayhurst & Co, Camden officers and a workgroup of senior leaders and school governors.

The building offers a rich selection of learning experiences, with indoor and outdoor spaces, maximum flexibility allowing for change and freedom of use, and access for families and community. Children and staff will continue to enjoy more exciting teaching and learning opportunities, with vistas out over science and wildlife gardens and the landmarks of Somers Town and St Pancras.

“We’re looking for someone as special as we are.”
