Our working environment

With views of the Thames, the Science department is able to offer students and staff a calm and enjoyable working environment. We are housed in five state of the art specialist laboratories, five demonstration classrooms and associated 'prep' rooms. We also have portable ICT facilities as well as access to the school's dedicated ICT rooms.

In September 2014, Teddington School welcomed its first Sixth Form Intake and the department has gained two new specially designed 'A' level laboratories and a Science Physics studio in the purpose built sixth form block.

We also have a science staff work area with associated computers and bank of reference textbooks.

The Curriculum

Combined Science is taught throughout the school. The emphasis is on showing how the various areas of Science inter-relate to explain scientific and technological aspects of our lives.

In Year 7 to 9 Science is taught in units as part of our 'in house schemes of work' which reflect the investigative nature of the Science National Curriculum. We have recently re-written our Key Stage 3 schemes of work in line with the new KS3 curriculum and use Collins KS3 Science as a teaching resource.

At Key Stage 4, At Key Stage 4, students study either Combined Science or the three separate Science GCSEs – Physics, Chemistry and Biology

Our well-equipped sixth form centre opened in September 2014. We currently offer AQA Biology, Chemistry and Physics at AS level and, from September 2015, at A level. The department has attracted a considerable number of students to all three Science A level courses.
