

Headmaster T N M Lawson MA (Oxon)

Teacher of Politics

September 2018

Introduction

The College seeks to appoint an inspirational and energetic, full-time Teacher of Politics from September 2018. The right person will have a marvellous opportunity to work in a stimulating environment, where resources, buildings, colleagues and pupils all strengthen the process of teaching and learning.

The position would suit an NQT, an experienced teacher wanting to put his or her experience to use in a different context, someone returning to teaching, or a high-calibre graduate without a formal teaching qualification but with the right skills and vision to inspire and motivate young people.

The College

Eastbourne College is a co-educational HMC independent school of just over 630 pupils, of whom half are full-time boarders. It is a strong community with excellent links with local schools and the remarkable town in which it is located.

Academic standards are very high with an average of 80% of A-level grades being awarded A*, A or B in the last four years. At GCSE approximately two thirds of all grades awarded are A* or A (or equivalent). The College recruits from a wide ability range and value added outcomes are exemplary. The majority of College leavers enter higher education in leading universities at home or abroad.

The College is run as a seven day week, full boarding school. Day pupils share the same wide curriculum as boarders and enjoy equal access to the physical and human resources of the school. Day pupils can complete their prep in Houses; buses run at both 18:00 and 20:00 on weekday evenings.

We are proud of our rich cultural and sporting traditions. The recently built Birley Centre is a hub of music practice, performance, composition and recording. There is an established partnership with Glyndebourne and links with Ballet Rambert, local artists and musical ensembles. College artists exhibit in London, actors have starred in film and TV; the Design & Technology department wins an extraordinary number of Arkwright scholarships. We have an enviable reputation for sport both regionally and nationally. Eastbournians frequently represent the county in hockey, rugby, cricket and netball; several old Eastbournians have gone on to achieve international honours. There are also thriving CCF, D of E and service programmes.

Eastbourne College places great emphasis on the importance of developing a school in which education is built on core values and positive, supportive relationships. These central qualities will endure long after a student moves on from the College. The five key values of participation, the pursuit of excellence, integrity, courtesy and kindness are, it believes, the bedrock upon which every child's education should stand, providing them with the wherewithal to flourish both at school and beyond.

The Post

With the change to linear A Levels this year we have opted to follow the new AQA specification, teaching UK Government and Politics to our Year 12s, the equivalent US topics and Comparative Politics in Year 13 and the third paper, Political Ideas, across the two year course. The successful applicant will be expected to teach across all three areas.

All members of Common Room are expected to play an additional part in the broader life of the College, e.g. by acting as a tutor in one of the day or boarding Houses, by offering their expertise in coaching team sports, or contributing to music, drama, debating etc.

The College has its own salary scale and the successful applicant will be placed on the scale at a level commensurate with age, experience and qualifications. Accommodation may be available for single or married applicants, including those with families. Teaching staff benefit from generous rates for the education of their own children both at the College and at St. Andrew's preparatory school.

The Department

Politics was introduced into the curriculum in September 2016 and has already proved to be a popular choice with pupils. A move into the new department base opposite the College Chapel is under way, which will provide a suite of two dedicated classrooms, both equipped with interactive whiteboards. In addition, our resources are growing rapidly as we work closely with the LRC to ensure the pupils have a healthy range of literature to satisfy their intellectual curiosity. Close ties with debating and Model United Nations allow plenty of scope for encouraging and enriching an understanding of wider political issues, whilst recent trips to Westminster have exposed pupils to the thoughts and opinions of speakers such as Jacob Rees Mogg, Nick Clegg and Chuka Umunna. A biennial visit to Washington DC, in conjunction with the History Department, remains a very popular undertaking.

There are many attractions to teaching at Eastbourne College, not least its location on the south coast in the sunniest part of the country.

The College provides a safe urban environment in an attractive part of a peaceful town where pupils have easy access to shops, cinemas and theatres at appropriate times, and this strengthens the boarding experience. The railway station is close, with easy travel to Gatwick (one hour) and London (under 90 minutes). The beach and sea are a five minute walk away and the South Downs (the newest National Park) are literally on our doorstep.

The school is a strikingly happy, cohesive and coherent community. We look forward to meeting you.
