Welcome from the Headteacher

2

Steven Henneberry
Headteacher

“Staff, including those in the early stages of their careers, feel well supported by leaders.”
Ofsted, 2023.

Welcome to Dallam School; a place I hope you will call home for many, many years to come.

At Dallam, our purpose is clear:

To build an ambitious, joyful and creative school community where everyone belongs, contributes and strives for excellence - so that every student leaves ready to succeed on their chosen path.

This is for all of us - students and staff alike. We are committed to being a school where you feel you belong, your voice matters, and your contribution makes a real difference.

Dallam is a friendly, supportive and ambitious place to work, where wellbeing is prioritised, creativity is encouraged, and professional growth is part of everyday life. Most importantly, we want you to see the impact of your work in the confidence, character and success of the young people who thrive here.

It is an exciting time at Dallam, and I look forward to hearing about how you can contribute to our development journey.

Steven

Our school

We're a vibrant and friendly comprehensive school where our children can continue studying into Sixth Form or study away from home, staying in our State Boarding House.

Dallam School offers day and boarding students a place to achieve academically, enjoy a wide range of creative and outdoor opportunities, and develop into a responsible and caring individual.

We have a truly comprehensive intake with 900 students, 11-18, currently on roll. Our 60 boarding students and cohorts of short-stay international students contribute to a culturally diverse school community.

Visitors are always impressed by our family atmosphere and the warmth of relationships between our staff and students.

Come and visit us

We've offered you an opportunity to come and visit us. Here's what you'll discover when you do:

- A rural yet international school close to the Lake District World Heritage Site with endless opportunities for adventures from coast to mountains.
- A career opportunity in a place with high aspirations for its students. We have a clear focus on outcomes for learning, behaviour and community.
- Our Headteacher, Steven Henneberry, who was once a student here, is looking to recruit a like-minded colleague with a strong presence and an interest in evidence-based practice to help inspire change and set a positive course for Dallam.
- Fantastic facilities including modern school buildings, historic Boarding House, pavilion and playing fields, all-weather 3G pitches, and excellent indoor sports halls.
- A heritage and traditions stretching back to 1613, the school is grounded in traditional values but forward-thinking and innovative.
- A supportive and inclusive culture in and around school where community is at the heart of all that we do. This includes the working relationship between teachers and students, the trusting relationships with form tutors and the pastoral team, and the honest relationships our staff develop with parents and carers.
- Every opportunity to pursue professional development. You'll also benefit from our extensive educational networks within Cumbria, including the South Lakes Federation of 10 secondary schools, Kendal College and University of Cumbria.

Our vision, values and purpose

Our vision

Our mission statement

We are here to build an ambitious, joyful and creative school community where everyone belongs, contributes and strives for excellence – so that every student leaves ready to succeed on their chosen path.

Our purpose and culture

At Dallam, belonging comes first. We understand belonging to mean far more than inclusion: it is about being known, valued and actively involved as part of an ambitious, joyful and creative school community. This sense of belonging underpins our approach to wellbeing for students, staff and families alike.

At Dallam, wellbeing is not the absence of challenge, but the presence of belonging, purpose, high expectations and support. For students, this means feeling safe, supported and stretched in a school where learning is vibrant, adventurous and driven by high expectations. Students are encouraged to contribute to school life, take intellectual risks, explore ideas with confidence and develop the character, creativity and curiosity they need to thrive on their chosen path.

For staff, belonging means feeling respected, developed and empowered as professionals and as people. It is about having a genuine voice, being invested in through mentoring, collaboration and leadership opportunities, and helping to shape the culture and direction of the school. This creates a working environment where staff wellbeing is sustained through clarity, trust, shared responsibility and professional pride, enabling colleagues to give their best to the students they serve.

This culture of belonging shapes our expectations and our practice. Everyone is seen. Everyone is supported. Everyone contributes. Everyone is challenged to thrive.

This vision informs leadership, teaching, behaviour and support across the school. It defines a community where belonging fuels ambition, contribution is expected, and excellence is a shared commitment; creating the conditions in which both wellbeing and success can flourish for every member of the Dallam School community.

Our values

Courage
(be brave)

Respect
(others, self and environment)

Compassion

Your professional development

We aim to be the place where staff can develop their careers and achieve their ambitions, through high quality professional learning. We strive to create a working environment that impacts positively on staff development; a culture of mutual trust, respect, openness and commitment to student achievement.

You can expect us to:

- Ensure access to high quality and bespoke professional development and the opportunity to progress your career at Dallam School
- Provide opportunities for staff to take on leadership roles, and, participate in project-based, collaborative thinking and learning
- Enable teachers to collaborate to refine their teaching practices and work together to solve problems in school. This includes working with partner schools to improve individual practices and school wide policies and protocols
- Secure a continuous appraisal process with meaningful feedback which enables staff development. Regular professional development conversations allow staff to excel in their roles, provide feedback on what support and progression they want, stay current with best practices, and continuously improve their craft

Our commitment to well-being

At Dallam, we care deeply about the well-being of our staff. We know that when colleagues feel supported, valued and trusted, they do their best work for our students. This sets out the practical ways we support each other every day, so that everyone can do their job well and feel proud to be part of our team.
