School Overview

All-Through

Being part of an all-through school offers a wide range of opportunities for both staff and pupils. In addition to specialist teaching, which take places across both campuses, children also benefit from subject leaders from across all phases working together to design and implement high quality curriculums.

A seamless transition from primary to secondary is enabled by exploiting opportunities for cross-phase working so that children are familiar with staff, facilities, and routines. For example, pupils from each campus regularly make visits to the other campus as part of the curriculum such as to watch a performance or take part in a joint activity. Opportunities for the children to give something back to the school community and take on responsibilities are offered through schemes such as Year 9 lunchtime leaders at primary; Year 10 Community action; Sixth form volunteers; Sports Leaders; and Pupil Ambassadors across the whole age range.

Opportunities are provided for professional development for staff who are encouraged to drive their own learning. Educational continuity is possible when staff collaborate across phases. Subject and pedagogical expertise are shared and developed.

Parents also have peace of mind knowing that their child will be continuing their education at the same school from age 4 to 18, allowing for the development of strong working relationships with school staff that will be sustained throughout their child's time at Roundhay.

Primary Phase

Staffing

The senior leadership team at our Primary Campus currently consists of a Head of Primary, Deputy Headteacher and a wider leadership team including Assistant Headteachers and middle leaders. We have classes from Reception to Year 6. Class teachers are well supported by a number of teaching assistants, special needs assistants, admin staff and a highly skilled inclusion team.

Accommodation

The Primary phase is positioned on a stunning green-field site, approximately one mile from the secondary campus, near the perimeter of Roundhay Park. The building was completed in April 2013 and offers state-of-the-art facilities and resources including. The substantial outdoor space includes playgrounds with extensive play areas and fixed equipment to promote physical development; a multi-use games area for use at playtimes and in PE lessons; a large field for a range of sports and a specialist forest school area. We also have a dedicated computer suite, art studio and an inclusion centre which caters for those on the SEND register.

The Curriculum

At Roundhay, our curriculum is carefully designed, implemented, and reviewed to ensure that our core values are LIVED through everything that we do within and across our school. We strive for excellence on a daily basis to ensure children are responsible, resilient and ready for their next chapter at Roundhay.

Our curriculum is designed with ambition, for all of our pupils, to create a broad range of opportunities and memorable experiences which ensure that children are:

Happy
Safe
Show respect
Enjoy a challenge
Celebrate diversity
...and are Ready and fit for their future!

We tailor our curriculum to suit the context of our school because Roundhay pupils need:

- Talk and rich language environments with explicit teaching
'Our learning floats on a sea of talk'
- Stories, conflicts, and dilemmas to be curious about, explore and learn from...
- To connect their knowledge, skills and understanding through spaced repetition and through the teaching of dense ideas

School Highlights

Primary School of The Year 2021

Roundhay Primary Campus was awarded the Primary School of the Year Award 2021 at the Pearson National Teaching Awards.

We were selected from thousands of nominations, and Roundhay Primary campus was honoured alongside fellow Gold Winners across 15 categories.

Alastair Field (Head of Primary Campus) said “I was blown away when we discovered that we have won this national award. It is a real testament to the hard work of our amazing pupils and staff who work tirelessly to do ‘whatever it takes’ to make our school such a wonderful and happy place to work and learn!”

Matthew Partington (All-Through School Executive Headteacher) – “When I realised we’d won this award, I cannot get across how proud I felt. I’ve always known that we have phenomenal young people and an exceptional staff team at Roundhay, but to receive recognition on the national stage is great news for the Roundhay community and the City of Leeds”.

Education Secretary Nadhim Zahawi continued: “I would like to congratulate Roundhay School for this recognition of their amazing work and dedication to their students. Winning one of these awards is a terrific achievement and is testament to their skill, commitment and passion for teaching. We are lucky enough to have some of the best teachers in the world and I would like to thank every single one of our education staff for their hard work supporting children and young people, especially during the pandemic.”

Sharon Hague, Managing Director of Pearson School Qualifications, said: “Roundhay Primary School is a shining example of the wonderful educators who work tirelessly across the country to provide the best possible experience for their students, and we thank them all.”

Rachel Johnson, CEO at PiXL, supporter of The Award for Making a Difference – Primary School of the Year, said: “Roundhay Primary School is a fantastic school and a very deserving winner of this award”

World Class School

In 2023 we went through a rigorous assessment process with the 'World Class Schools' organisation. This organisation awards a quality mark to non-selective state schools that offer the best education in the UK. They judge students against a framework of skills and competencies they feel young people need to flourish in an emerging global economy. There will only ever be one hundred schools in the UK who have achieved 'World Class Status'.

Potential 'World Class' schools are deemed to be outstanding by 'Ofsted' at the time of their accreditation and the assessment process for the Mark provides a unique insight into the impact schools have on their students. Our results and outcomes were scrutinised across the five key stages and then the director of WCSQM spent a day dropping into lessons, speaking to our pupils and meeting with members of staff. Once we had passed this first stage we were able to move forward in the process.

One of the unique features of the 'World Class Schools' Quality Mark assessment descriptors is that they apply to the pupils, not the school. A group of pupils undertook a comprehensive self-assessment exercise to establish what it is about the school that makes them 'World Class'. They also had to take part in filming a video to represent daily life at Roundhay (which became the 'We are Roundhay' film). Pupils then had to take part in a full day assessment at Reading UTC where they were judged against the Mark's framework by shadow assessors who followed their every move.

The WCSQM state that: 'it is the calibre of the student which proves the calibre of the school. If the school is truly 'World Class' then the students will be able to own and demonstrate 'World Class' qualities.

A 'WORLD CLASS' STUDENT:

- is highly literate scientifically, mathematically, technologically and culturally
- consistently out-performs students from similar contexts, and is committed to continually improving their performance
- is an excellent learner, dedicated to lifelong learning
- is a compelling candidate in their field for higher education and/or employment, being globally aware, confident and prepared for life in an international environment.'

We are extremely proud that Roundhay School passed the assessment process with flying colours and has now received full 'World Class Status' accreditation. The pupils involved in the process were an absolute credit to our school but it needs to be recognised that this award does not just recognise a small group of pupils, it represents our whole school community. We are 'World Class' because of the work we do together. Parents, pupils, staff and anyone connected with Roundhay all play their part in making this school what it is – "We are Roundhay".
