EYFS Class Teacher

Salary: £33,075 - £50,471

Required for September 2025

You will have a pivotal role in shaping EYFS. We will look to you to help create and maintain a love of learning in the children, which supports our positive child centred approach that ignites their: Curiosity, Exploration and Discovery and motivates them to do well and become the best they can be.

In return you will benefit from a stimulating, supportive ethos. Colleagues who work together harmoniously to benefit the children. Opportunities for further training and professional development.

The school encourages pupils’ talents and interests well. Pupils enjoy the ‘museum learning’ approach to finding out more. They are curious, ask questions and learn well from experts, experiences and artefacts. This may be from the objects which are on display, such as an Olympic torch, to Reception children experiencing ‘sand between their toes’. Children in early years learn to retell stories. Pupils adore their teachers reading to them. Ofsted, June 2024

We are looking for:

- Inspirational teachers with high expectations of pupil attainment, behaviour and well-being.
- Highly motivated and hard-working people with the capacity to contribute to our growing school.
- Team players who can develop positive relationships with children, families and colleagues.
- Teachers who have or want to teach in EYFS.

The successful candidate must:

- Have highly effective classroom practice that will inspire our children and ignite within them a passion for learning.
- Be both aspirational and nurturing to ensure every child achieves his/her full potential.
- Be able to provide creative input into our curriculum, demonstrating a deep understanding of how children learn.
- Be able to create an exciting and stimulating learning environment.
- Bring expertise and passion to lead projects, visits and experiences for our children.

We reserve the right to interview shortlisted candidates immediately.
