SCHOOL
AGES 3-18

Recruitment of
ASSISTANT HEAD
(DIRECTOR OF DIGITAL LEARNING)
BOOTHAM SCHOOL, YORK
FROM SEPTEMBER 2026

WELCOME FROM THE HEAD

Thank you for taking the time to consider applying for this role at Bootham. Bootham is an extraordinary place – different from many independent schools in its relaxed, liberal ethos which nonetheless sees staff and students working purposefully with the highest academic ambitions.

The Quaker tradition underpins all we do, with simplicity, truth, equality, peace and sustainability as our core values. Students are urged to ‘let their lives speak’ – to take what they learn and give back to the community through our Social Action programme.

Bootham School seeks to appoint an outstanding educational leader to the newly-created position of Director of Digital Learning, a role at Assistant Head level that will shape and advance digital pedagogy across the whole school, from Early Years to Year 13.

The successful candidate will be an excellent teacher (of any subject currently offered at Bootham) with the expertise in Teaching &

Learning and the level of technical understanding of IT systems sufficient to drive forward developments in digital learning.

The Director of Digital Learning will champion innovation while remaining grounded in Bootham’s Quaker ethos – promoting simplicity, truth, equality, peace and sustainability in both the use and understanding of technology.

The successful candidate will be expected to contribute fully to the broader life of Bootham School — supporting co-curricular activity, evening or weekend events, and the pastoral wellbeing of pupils in line with the school’s community ethos.

The role combines senior leadership responsibilities with a teaching load and offers an exceptional opportunity to shape the digital future of a well-established and forward-thinking independent school.

ABOUT OUR SCHOOL

Founded by local Quakers in 1823 to educate their sons, Bootham is now a coeducational day and boarding school for students aged 2 – 19 in the centre of York. There are currently around 650 students at our junior and senior schools who, together with over 200 teaching and support staff, make up the Bootham Community.

The senior school is housed on Bootham, very close to the ancient city walls and Bootham Bar, a stone's throw from the Minster. Buildings range from elegant eighteenth and nineteenth century town houses along Bootham, to a stunning Arts Centre. At the heart of the school – geographically and spiritually – is the award winning 'brutalist' 1960s meeting hall, where we meet for Quaker worship at least three times per week. Although a prime city centre site, the grounds are extensive and the overall impression created is one of space, calm and style; an oasis from the city outside.

Approximately 100 students live in our boarding houses, and comprise full, flexi and occasional boarders from at least 14 nationalities. While boarders are fully integrated into the daily pastoral structures of the school, the fact that we are a boarding school shapes the pace, structure and many of the priorities of the school's life. Boarding adds a richness and diversity to the community from which we all benefit.

Bootham is part of a community of nine Quaker schools in the United Kingdom and Ireland and many more worldwide. The schools in the British Isles collaborate together closely in a number of ways.

THE CURRICULUM

We pursue an unashamedly academic programme of study which nonetheless prizes the performing and creative arts, for example, equally with the more supposedly 'traditional' subjects.

Students study a broad programme in Schoolrooms (Years 7-9), and then choose nine GCSE subjects in Seniors (Years 10-11), although this can be tailored for those who need it to be, such as boarders getting to grips with the English Language. The College (Years 12-13) programme permits those students who can cope with it to pursue 4 A levels, the standard is 3 A levels plus an EPQ.

Despite the fact that we are only mildly selective by ability, the school contains many very able students. Students with additional needs are well supported and often go on to become high performers.

Typically 90% of students obtain firm or insurance offers at a range of institutions. 75% of those applying to university gained a place on their first choice course, with a further 13% securing their insurance offer. These included a wide range of courses and venues including Oxford, Cambridge, LSE, Central St Martin's, Imperial, Durham, Bath, Royal Vet College, Bristol, Warwick, Queen's Belfast, Leeds College of Art, Royal Academy of Music, UCL, Nottingham, Newcastle, Manchester and universities in Europe, North America and Hong Kong.

PASTORAL CARE & CO-CURRICULAR OPPORTUNITIES

Life beyond the classroom is really well catered for. The extraordinarily varied Bootham Challenge programme offers all age groups an almost bewildering range of activities both after school every evening, at weekends and during holidays.

Students can gain their Bootham Challenge award for their participation in these activities; achievements and pastimes outside school contribute to that, too. For a small school, the sports programme is strong and varied but isn't considered more important than drama, outdoor pursuits, creative arts and music for example; indeed the school has a particularly strong musical and dramatic tradition. Trips to parts far and near are frequent and purposeful!

Pastoral care is a strong suit of Bootham (as we hope could be expected from a Quaker school). Small tutor groups, supervised by Heads of Year, provide daily care, and our on-site medical centre looks after all the health needs of boarders and provides some support for day students and staff, including the services of a school counsellor.

BOOTHAM AIMS AND VALUES

In pursuing our vision and in seeking to promote the purpose of a Bootham Education we set ourselves the following aims:

- To continue to grow and further develop a thriving community that reflects Quaker principles and practices, helping each individual to grow to recognise and develop 'that of God' in themselves and in other people
- To help all students to become the best person that each can be and to achieve the best of which each is capable ·
- To promote habits of hard work, self-regulating and the meeting of high standards of personal conduct in all aspects of work and relationships. We aim to develop our students into genuinely good people who are reflective, who seek truth and light, and whose lives speak with integrity of positive, pro-social values ·
- To promote kindness, a questioning spirit, humility, and a deep sense of social responsibility, as well as both the courage and confidence to speak up, and to work to build a better world
- As staff, to model to our young people the qualities and values that we aspire for them to hold, and to do so with patience but in the expectation of high standards, seeking for – and helping them to seek for – 'that of God' within them
- As an employer, to provide a stimulating, fair and supportive working environment in which all employees understand the role they play in building a better world and know that they are valued for playing it

At Bootham School we value particularly an approach to our community from all who work and learn here which:

- looks for, responds to and works hard to draw out 'that of God' in others and in themselves
- seeks to make a positive contribution to the Bootham community and shows respect for its Quaker values, practices and heritage
- speaks with integrity of a straightforward, kind, caring and unquestioningly respectful approach to others
- is wholehearted, demonstrating commitment both to being the best that they can be and to the hard work needed in rising to the challenge of high standards and high expectations
- speaks truth, placing honesty in all things as a priority and is able to resolve conflict peacefully
- is ambitious to improve the world for others – near and far – in whatever ways they can.

LIVING AND WORKING IN YORK

York is a city with a rich history dating back to Roman times. It is known for its well-preserved medieval architecture, including the iconic York Minster, the city walls, and the Shambles.

The city has a vibrant cultural scene with many museums, galleries, theatres, and festivals throughout the year. Whether you enjoy exploring historical artefacts or attending contemporary art exhibitions, York offers a diverse range of cultural experiences. The city has a strong community spirit, and residents take pride in their local identity.

York consistently ranks high in quality of life surveys. It is a relatively small city compared to others in the UK. Known for its green spaces, parks, and the picturesque River Ouse, the Dales, Moors and Coast are all within easy reach.

The city's educational institutions from primary to tertiary level are well-regarded, and the presence of universities contributes to a dynamic and intellectually stimulating environment.

York's central location in the UK makes it well-connected by rail and road. The city's railway station is a major hub, providing easy access to other major UK and international cities.

THE OPPORTUNITY

Bootham is in many ways a rather special school. Working here might particularly suit and stimulate you if much of the following resonates with you or attracts you! We believe you would fit well here if:

- however important you consider academic results to be, people and relationships are much more important to you
- you believe good relationships are the most important foundation for successful teaching, effective learning and good leadership
- you flourish in the company of young people and those who have dedicated themselves to developing them
- you love your subject and are passionate about the focus of the responsibility that you have applied for
- you prize kindness, rigour, compassion and challenge in equal measure in approach to student welfare, behaviour and progress
- you practise what you preach and model what you want students to value most about their lives and education
- you have high expectations of yourself and the young people you will work with, but also possess a healthy scepticism about the worth of striving for perfection
- you are also healthily sceptical about the primacy of public exam results as both the goal of education and the best measure of its success, despite your proven ability to help young people to achieve great grades
- you are driven to identify and help others discover that which is unique, of most value and 'of God' in each member of our community, as well as in yourself
- although not necessarily a Quaker you have a sound appreciation of, and sympathy with the Quaker ethos and how it impacts teaching
- you value silence, stillness and the ability just to 'be' amidst the busyness of school life
- you have looked into the values and practices of the Quaker way, and are open to understand why they can make such a good foundation for an education that is fit for the 21st century
- you believe your calling is to use your skills, knowledge and personality to produce young people who will make an impact on the world for good
- you can cope with well-intentioned but robust challenge from students, colleagues and, at times, parents
- you are looking to work in a school that will challenge the educational status quo rather than blindly support it, and seek to use its independence to do so
- you can approach your work knowing that long school holidays provide the necessary balance for intensive hard work during term time.
