

ISF Teacher Career Development Continuum May 2020

The Career Continuum is adapted from work published by the Australian Institute for Teaching and School Leadership¹, which reflects and builds on international evidence that a teacher's effectiveness has a powerful impact on students' learning, with broad consensus that teacher quality is the single most important in-school factor influencing student achievement.

- The key elements of quality teaching are described in the Standards.
- The Standards define the work of teachers and make explicit the elements of high-quality, effective teaching.
- The Standards are inter-connected, inter-dependent and overlapping.
- The Standards are grouped into three domains of teaching: Professional Knowledge, Professional Practice and Professional Engagement.

The Career Development Continuum further identifies 7 Standards – see below. Within each Standard, Focus Areas provide further illustration of teaching knowledge, practice and professional engagement.

The focus areas are separated into descriptors which align with career stages from early or 'graduate' practice to highly experienced lead teaching demonstrating support both within and external to the school: Functional, Effective, Accomplished, and Lead.

We would expect ISF teachers to be working at least within the Effective stage.
