Ted
Wragg TRUST

Ted Wragg Trust

An ambitious and inclusive Trust of schools strengthening our communities through excellent education.

Welcome from the Ted Wragg Trust
CEO, Moira Marder

On behalf of the Ted Wragg Trust, I would like to thank you for your interest in working with us. The Ted Wragg Trust (TWT) is an ambitious and inclusive Trust of schools strengthening our communities through excellent education. Our values driven, rapidly growing 2-18 Trust has the highest expectations for every child, every day, with social justice at our core.

This is a hugely exciting time for us as a growing Trust who work closely with other local schools and Trusts across Devon.

Our Values

Selflessness

- put children at the heart of all we do
- prioritise others and build healthy teams
- be brave

Ambition

- work hard
- strive to be even better
- be the best we can

Collaboration

- build trust
- build strong relationships
- be stronger together

How will we succeed?

We also ensure that our students are outward facing and enjoy a full range of experiences and opportunities whilst they are at St James. They understand and celebrate difference and diversity and proactively contribute to our community. They raise money for charities, learn a language until at least the end of year 9, and they volunteer locally because they know that to feel part of your community, you've got to first be part of your community.

The community feel of St James is supported by our curriculum, which keeps the arts at the heart of our school. Our academic curriculum teaches a knowledge of the world which is vital, but the arts engender a knowledge of the self, which children need in order to fully explore the world. At St James, we ask children not just what they want to be when they grow up but who they want to be and we believe that keeping the arts as the beating heart of our school helps our children to answer that question.

And we are clear about one thing that all of our children and staff must be – and that is kind. Kindness is the most important pillar at St James. We want to help our children grow into kind teenagers and then kind adults, so we teach them to do the right thing, because it is the right thing, because that benefits them and their community – and because it feels good to just be a good human being.

So, if you like to work hard and be kind, and you like students who do the same, St James School is the place for you and we would welcome your application.

The successful candidate will:

- work hard;
- be kind;
- be outward facing;
- be a terrific teacher;
- be a passionate and innovative advocate for teaching and learning;
- have great curriculum knowledge;
- be totally committed to improving the life chances of young people; and
- be a good human being.

Does this sound like you? If so, then we would welcome your application. Application forms and further information are available from our website: www.stjamesexeter.co.uk or by email to recruitment@stjamesexeter.co.uk.

The English Department at St James is a hard-working department with improving GCSE results. The team, both ECTs and those with significant experience, are eager to engage in new strategies and work collegiately with each other and the trust to improve outcomes.

The team works with the Trust Leader for English and academy Heads of English to deliver a common curriculum to our students. Our curriculum is fully planned and resourced, meaning staff have time to spend on lesson preparation, focusing on refining the enactment of the curriculum, rather than seeking to reinvent the wheel. This common curriculum strives to develop classrooms where students are exposed to rich knowledge and domain specific skills so that they develop the confidence to read and write accurately whilst learning to love the crafting of language.

Our English department delivers the AQA English language and literature specifications and staggers the entry so that students complete their English literature GCSE at the end of year ten and the English language in year 11.

Our classrooms are disruption-free which allows teachers to focus on delivering great lessons with clear instruction, modelling, practice and revisiting.

The St James coaching program supports teachers in refining their pedagogy. This means that every teacher will be coached at least fortnightly and will work with the coach to agree incremental targets that will support their development, following our teaching model: Great Teaching at St James. We invest in coaching because we believe that every teacher needs to improve, not because they're not good enough but because they can be even better. We have an open-door policy as we believe that the best way to move forward is to work collaboratively and learn from each other.

The department has a lead practitioner who coaches the team and who also leads on literacy lessons, literacy across the school, including our phonics and Lexia programs. They also lead our literary canon, a collection of texts which hold significant value both in the style of writing and in their message. Students read these books with their tutors at least three times per week, using our common reading approaches, informed by Reading Reconsidered. Our canon books explore culture, provide the opportunity to understand our heritage, expose the aspects of society that we should challenge and allow students to explore other cultures, celebrate diversity and gain an insight into the wider world.

Our English team is eager to continue to improve and so engages in a range of educational research. We are currently part of the EEF's research project that evaluates the impact of Ark's English curriculum and we are also working with Exeter and Plymouth University to deliver writing intervention to disadvantaged students.

Dimension	What does this look like at St James?
Lesson preparation: Understanding the content 	We have expert curriculum knowledge and sequence concepts in small steps and the connections students should make with previous knowledge. We use lesson preparation before we teach and plan for reading. In our preparation, we identify misconceptions and typical errors in each topic and plan for examples and non-examples. We prepare live modelling by writing model answers that solve the most difficult problems our students face. We prepare for giving an explanation, which might involve using analogies. We decide when and how we will check for understanding of the whole class and individuals. Using our seating plans, we anticipate where we may need to use adaptive teaching to meet the needs of all students.
Disruption-free classrooms: Maximising opportunities to learn 	We maximise time by getting lessons started promptly. Students are greeted at the threshold for the first three minutes before the register. Students immediately start meaningful work with a Do Now activity. We consistently apply the lesson expectations by awarding merits and behaviour points. We expect students to fully engage in the lesson with no opt out and to silently track the speaker. To allow all students to concentrate, silence is golden. We have positive relationships with students which is reinforced by a warm-strict manner. We use positive framing to narrate the room to acknowledge where expectations are being met. There is an organised routine for ending lessons.
Great Learning: Activating hard thinking 	Lessons begin with spaced retrieval practice through the Do Now. We introduce content by sharing the big picture, small picture and key learning ideas, threshold concepts and powerful knowledge with our students. We present new content through chunking and giving an explanation, considering cognitive load and link new content to prior knowledge. Our explanations include examples & non-examples as well as worked examples. We check for understanding by asking lots of questions, using techniques such as think, pair, share, show-me boards and cold calling. We correct misconceptions with right is right. Students are given feedback and encouraged to say it again better. We use live modelling, often using a visualiser. We get the learning to stick using the modelling handover: I do, We do, You do. We support students to move from guided practice to independent practice and we circulate with live marking and show call.
Adaptive teaching: Creating a supportive environment 	Using whole-class feedback, we adapt our teaching. We provide scaffolding and support, including the use of structure strips and writing frames. Students who have been absent are supported through our attendance marginal gains. We support all students to be able to read aloud in lessons through whole-class reading routines and our reading consistencies. We circulate to spot and correct misconceptions. We work with teaching assistants in tandem to support some students' learning. Our planning is informed by a wide range of assessment data and SEND information, enabling us to aim high, plan support and teach to the top.
