About Brno

(www.brno.cz/en)

Brno, lying between the Bohemian-Moravian forested highlands and the fertile South Moravian lowlands with vineyards, offers its residents and visitors a high-quality and attractive natural environment for living, business and recreation.

The city is the unique cultural centre for the region. There are permanent theatre ensembles, opera, ballet and musical stages, a philharmonic orchestra, and you can also visit a number of museums, galleries and libraries, a recently modernized observatory and planetarium, a zoo and a botanical garden. More than 20 festivals of culture and theatre take place in the city each year.

Brno recently made the New York Times top places to visit in 2016. It was also ranked in the top 20 of Europe's best cities in terms of quality of life on www.numbeo.com. ISB is about a 15 minute ride from the city centre, where most teachers tend to live.
