

Mathematics Teacher

Mathematics Teacher

Rendcomb College requires an enthusiastic and dynamic Mathematics Teacher. The successful applicant will be able to deliver the curriculum to all secondary levels and to participate fully in the life of the school. They will be joining an experienced and very supportive department and will be expected to contribute towards pupil support and enrichment activities along with a commitment to provide the best possible mathematical education for the pupils. The appointee will have their own teaching room and will be allocated a tutor group. A level Maths and Further Maths teaching is immediately available for a suitable applicant.

The Person

A capacity both to engage and challenge students of all abilities is essential. The successful applicant will be committed to providing high-quality, effective, student-centred learning and will be innovative and reflective, with a genuine interest in young people and how they learn.

All full time members of staff are expected to play an active role in the life of a busy boarding school. An ability to support the school in another area such as sports coaching or on the pastoral side of School life would also be advantageous. All full time teachers have a tutor group and are responsible for monitoring their pupils' academic progress. All Staff attend Open Days, Taster Days and other College events as well as training and INSET days and are expected to engage with their own Continued Professional Development.

All applicants who are short-listed for the post will be expected to conduct a 30 minute class as part of the assessment process.

Academic Courses

We currently use AQA at GCSE level and Edexcel at A Level. We also offer some pupils the opportunity to take the AQA Further Mathematics Level 2 Certificate in Year 11. All Maths A level students and pupils in the top maths set of all other year groups are entered for the various UKMT Maths Challenge competitions.

Pupils are placed in sets according to ability in Year 7 after a short period of mixed ability teaching. Setting continues right through to the end of GCSE. There are generally three sets per year group, the top sets containing about 16 pupils and the lowest sets about 10 pupils. At A level, there are two Maths teaching groups and one Further Maths group in both Year 12 and Year 13.

The Department

The Mathematics Department is a successful and thriving department in a supportive school. The Maths Department consists of 4 full-time teachers and 2 part-time teachers. The appointee is replacing one of the full-time positions.

The department has four teaching rooms and the regular use of two others, each equipped with whiteboards and data projectors. The main textbook resources at KS3 are the "Maths Links" textbooks, but this will be changed in September with the decision to be confirmed. At GCSE we use the Collins AQA texts and at A level, the Pearson Edexcel series. We subscribe to "Hegarty Maths", "Mymaths" and MEI "Integral" online resources. Teachers are also encouraged to use and develop their own resources to support their teaching.

General Teacher Responsibilities

The following elements of the job at Rendcomb are in addition to the teaching-load and act as a general guide. The final balance of teaching and non-teaching responsibilities is assessed on an individual basis.

Tutor

This involves one teaching period per week for tutor/PSHEE in addition to registering tutees from 8.15 Monday to Friday each week. Tutors are responsible for monitoring their pupils' academic progress. Tutors are also asked to accompany their tutees at Chapel for one period per week.

Co-curricular

All full-time teachers are expected to offer two terms of games per academic year or the equivalent in terms of duties or activities such as Duke of Edinburgh Award.

All full-time staff are expected to offer two afterschool activities per week (4.10pm-5.00pm) each term.

General School Duties

All staff are asked to undertake week-day general school duties on approximately four days per term. In addition, staff support the boarding community through undertaking a weekend duty (usually a Sunday) approximately once per term. Each member of staff also supports Saturday fixtures or the Saturday boarding programme for approximately twelve Saturdays per year.

In addition to these, staff may also be linked to boarding houses and asked to assist with covering general sick provision at break or lunch

Additional boarding duties in the evening may be available and are separately remunerated.

All staff attend Open Days, Taster Days and other College events as well as training and INSET days and are expected to engage with their own Continued Professional Development.

Variation to this Job Description

This is a description of the job as it is at present, and is current at the date of issue. The job description will be renewed and updated as necessary to ensure that appropriate revisions are incorporated, and that it relates to the job to be performed. This process would be conducted through consultation. You are expected to participate fully in the College's Professional Development and Review (PDR).

To apply, please click the blue "quick apply" button on TES and complete the online application form. Please also email a covering letter detailing your suitability for the post to Mrs Hannah Boydell at HR@rendcombcollege.org.uk

All shortlisted applicants will be expected to teach a 30-minute lesson as part of their interview.
