Mathematics Faculty Description

The Mathematics Faculty is a team of enthusiastic and dedicated teachers, who care passionately about their students and are committed to raising standards and enjoyment in the subject. The faculty has consistently achieved some of the best examination results, if not the best results, within the school. The team is comprised of nine teachers, one of whom is part-time, and a full-time HLTA. The Director of Learning, assisted by a Deputy Director with responsibility for Key Stage 4, lead the faculty. In addition, there are two TLR holders, who oversee Key Stages 3 and 5.

Every teacher has their own teaching room, all located in the same vicinity at the centre of the school. Every room is equipped with projectors, an interactive and non-interactive white board, document cameras and speakers; all members of staff have their own laptop computers, with access to the internet and a number of maths software package, including 'Hegarty Maths', 'Maths Box', 'Maths Net A-level' and 'Pearson Active Teach'. There is an additional intervention room used by the HLTA, who works predominantly with 'Pupil Premium' students and those with 'Catch-Up' provision. The school have a number of computer rooms that can be used with classes. Each member of the faculty also has their own desk within the Faculty Office, where shared planning, meetings and training occur, and where key resources and a networked photocopier are located.

In a recent survey, students recognised the team's high quality of teaching, subject knowledge and use of assessment, monitoring and feedback, along with their dedication. The faculty has led the way in the school with 'Diagnosis, Therapy and Testing'. Working closely with Bath Spa University and the University of the West of England, we regularly host PGCE students and prospective teachers.

KS3

We follow a two-year Key Stage 3 course, with students taught in setted classes from early in Year 7. Our mastery scheme of builds on the experience of students from our feeder primary schools and aims to ensure a secure knowledge of numeracy to support their future learning. Students have seven lessons of maths a fortnight. The schedule, scheme of work and resources are in place, as are the concise entry and exit tests, which demonstrate to students their progress.

GCSE

Students in Years 9 to 11 follow the Edexcel 9-1 GCSE course. Our Scheme of Work was re-written to support the new course, as were key resources and assessments. These are regularly reviewed at faculty meetings and take into account the latest publications from exam boards.

As at Key Stage 3, students have seven lessons of maths over a fortnight, with the exception of Year 9, where they have 8 lessons. Small group intervention is given to students of all abilities who have been identified from tracking data. These sessions take place at tutor time, after school or with students being withdrawn from lesson. Weekly revision sessions are also offered to all Year 11.

We also currently deliver the Level 2 Further Maths Qualification to our top set Year 11s. All students in Year 10 will be sitting GCSE Statistics at the end of that academic year.

A Level

We usually have large numbers of students studying maths in the Sixth Form at AS and A-Level. We also have students taking Further Maths at AS and A-Level. At the moment, we use Edexcel for all of our courses.

Additional support for all Sixth Form maths students is available at a drop-in clinic every Thursday, although students are encouraged to find their teachers at any time if they have questions. When students need to sit the 'STEP' paper, 'Advanced Extension Award' or any other maths related University entrance exams, we offer specific support with these.

Enrichment

A range of enrichment activities are offered in maths to complement work in the classroom. Each year we put forward teams for the 'UK Mathematical Trust' team challenges and enter at least 70 individual students for both the Junior and Intermediate challenge. All AS and A-Level maths students are also entered for this challenge. Appropriate events offered through the 'Further Maths Support Programme' and by our local universities are attended and in March 2018, we are hosting a Year 10 Maths Enrichment Event for our students and others in Wiltshire.

The Maths Faculty regularly reviews approaches and this has resulted in an efficient and well-organised department, where we constantly develop our practices to improve the teaching and learning of mathematics. The continued development of teachers' experience is vitally important and in a large department and within the supportive setting of the John of Gaunt School, this is readily available. We welcome new colleagues who have fresh ideas and want to contribute to our team.
