

December 2018

Dear Applicant

You will, I am certain, be researching LEH-Foshan to find out more about the school and decide whether it is your dream job. As LEH-Foshan is a brand-new school, there is only a limited amount we can show you on our shiny new website but there is much comfort to be drawn from the very close working relationship we have with The Lady Eleanor Holles School (LEH) in Hampton. I hope the details provided within the job description provide the colour and flavour of the post, but I would be delighted to arrange a Skype or phone call if you have any further questions.

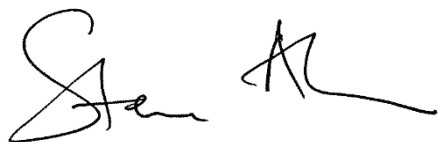

This is a unique and exciting opportunity to help establish and shape a school that has the ambition to become one of the leading educational institutions in China. With the full support of LEH the Head of Humanities will work closely with the Deputy Head and me to establish LEH-Foshan as a thriving learning community, nurturing global citizens who shape the world as independent, empathetic and creative leaders.

The successful candidate will combine a track record of successful leadership experience, developed in the UK or internationally, with the cultural awareness and global perspective to provide a clear vision for a first-class department. Outstanding teaching and communication skills, creativity, gravitas, entrepreneurial spirit and drive are all crucial to the success of this exciting new venture.

The closing date is 09:00 GMT on Friday 18 January 2019. Candidates will be considered upon application and initial Skype interviews arranged. Short listed candidates will be invited for final interview at the TES Job Fair on Saturday 19 and Sunday 20 January in London or via Skype after this date.

If you have any questions, please do email me: steve.allen@leh-foshan.cn to arrange a Skype or telephone call.

Yours sincerely

Steve Allen
