Dear Applicant

Thank you for requesting an application pack for the post of full time Teacher in Charge of Specialist Resource Provision (SRP) at King Athelstan Primary School. The designation of the provision is Social Emotional Mental Health. This post would suit an experienced teacher with successful SEND experience in a diverse setting. The post is permanent and starts in April 2019. The successful candidate will be responsible for the pupils and staff within the SRP as well as supporting the wider staff team with training and advice. There will also be the opportunity to do some regular outreach work. We are pleased to enclose the job description, person specification and an application form.

This post offers a tremendous opportunity for a teacher with excellent classroom practice, proven impact for children with SEND and the desire and passion to make a difference to young people's lives. The successful candidate will be employed from the beginning of the summer term and responsible for much of the set up and organisation of the SRP in advance of its opening. This will also include working with the Senior Leadership Team on recruitment of other staff and admissions which will come as EHCP (Education Health Care Plan) consultations from the SEN team at Achieving for Children (providing children's services for Kingston and Richmond). The ability to interact confidently with a range of professionals is essential.

This exciting role will include ensuring the provision of learning and teaching meets the needs of individuals within the SRP and that opportunities for integration into the mainstream classrooms are well resourced and supported. The Teacher in Charge will ensure that the curriculum for children reflects the creative and engaging school curriculum whilst also taking into account children's own interests and individual targets. The school has a number of Service Level Agreements with professionals who work within the Inclusion Team such as Educational Psychologists and the Emotional Health Service, as well as professionals from SEND services and therapies.

Our school is an exciting and rewarding place to work. The staff team are focussed on improving outcomes for all and making learning engaging, relevant and fun. The school opened a new section of the building in 2017, including brand new staff facilities, and was graded as "good" again by Ofsted in the same year.

We are looking for someone who is as passionate about working at King Athelstan Primary School as we are, and therefore visits to the school before the closing date are essential. We would really like to meet prospective applicants and give them a flavour of our school and our vision for the future. It is an important opportunity for you to find out more about our school and ask any questions. Please contact the school office for an appointment.

Should you have any further questions at this stage, please do not hesitate to contact the school office and we will be happy to help. We look forward to meeting you.

Yours sincerely

Emily Newton
