Kellett School

Kellett School has grown to earn an enviable reputation...

... as one of Hong Kong's leading independent International Schools. Having recently been certified as 'outstanding' by the BSO Inspection, Kellett provides an environment where students learn with growing independence, in a challenging and stimulating setting. High academic achievement is realised within a broad curriculum embracing creativity, the arts and sport, taking into account Hong Kong's unique position in South East Asia at the gateway to China.

We are proud of our students and all that they achieve; they lie at the heart of our community. Kellett students are eager to learn, embrace opportunity, and take pleasure in their own success and that of others. They are caring of each other and in the wider community, compassionate, and proud of their school and all that it embodies.

Our two purpose-built campuses provide modern facilities and generous resources. Student learning is supported across the school by enthusiastic and committed teachers, small classes, low student-teacher ratios and robust pastoral care, ensuring that each of our students understands that they are valued and secure within our community.

Kellett School reflects the best of British education, offering seamless transfer to and from leading schools and universities worldwide. Our community is one which facilitates siblings being educated together and where parents play a vital partnership role in their child's education.

School Demographics

The School is required by the Hong Kong Education Bureau to maintain a minimum of 70% overseas passport holders. The current demographics as a percentage of total admission are:

British – 57%
Australasian – 11%
Hong Kong – 7%
USA – 6%
European – 6%
Other - 13%

Kellett welcomes students of all abilities, including a limited number of students whose individual needs can be met in a main stream school setting. The school makes no EAL provision; students must be able to access the curriculum at a level appropriate to their age. A Deputy Head of School manages Inclusion across the school, including a Senior School Learning Centre designed to support a range of specialist inclusion provisions, occupational therapy and speech and language therapy.

Our School

Our Aim, Curriculum and Finance

Our Aim

Our aim is to engender 'a love of learning and confidence for life' in each of our students, which sharply focuses the work of our entire school community.

We achieve this aim by ensuring our students:

- Achieve personal academic excellence
- Are confident, articulate and have a wide range of transferable skills
- Understand their responsibilities as members of the global community

Our Aim is underpinned by our community's commitment in providing each of its students with:

- A stimulating and supportive learning environment
- A broad curriculum and valuable extra-curricular experiences
- Meaningful challenge, opportunity and responsibility

The Curriculum

The School is proud of its tradition of academic excellence and curriculum breadth. The curriculum is based upon the National Curriculum for England (NC) leading to IGCSE/GCSE and A-level public examinations. It aims to provide seamless transition to and from British and British International Schools worldwide. It is anticipated that the majority of students upon completion of A-level study will leave to leading UK, US, Australian and HK Universities.

Kellett School provides curriculum experiences well beyond the requirements of the NC and this is reflected in generous resources to support the curriculum as a whole, the performing and creative arts and sport in particular. Curriculum and residential visits and a rich provision of extra-curricular activities combine to offer an experience similar to those of a leading UK independent day school.

Kellett School subscribes to Durham Universities, Centre of Educational Management (CEM) who manage the School's student performance data through online PIPS, MidYIS, Yellis and ALIS assessment. School data indicates that the majority of student attainment is well above the UK national average. The School's Value Added Data (VA) is particularly strong.

Finance

The School maintains a healthy financial position. It is almost wholly funded by fee and Debenture income. There is a small amount of income derived from donations, and an active Parents Association has been instrumental in funding enhanced provision for students.

Looking To The Future

Kellett School enjoys an enviable position within the Hong Kong Preparatory School market. The Senior School was established in 2007 and has enjoyed a period of considerable success as it has grown and developed.

The School can look to the future with confidence; a new school plan has been implemented to encompass the requirements of the Hong Kong Education Bureau KLB lease requirements and build upon Kellett School's tradition of offering high-quality, British-style education at a level comparable to respected day schools within the UK independent sector. Kellett School is already a leading British International School in the region; it now strives to be the leading British International School.
