Message from the Headmaster, Michael Windsor

Thank you for your interest in Abingdon School. I am delighted that you are considering our school and I hope that you will want to apply for this post once you have found out a little more about us.

I urge you to spend time looking at our website, www.abingdon.org.uk, as this will tell you a lot about us and give you a taste of all that goes on here. The Abingdon Foundation is a community of some 1300 boys, currently 1050 at Abingdon School and 250 at Abingdon Preparatory School. Boarding houses are full with 140 boarders and the sixth form has around 350 boys. We employ some 380 teachers and support staff across the Foundation. The Board of Governors oversee the whole Foundation.

Academic standards and outcomes are very high. Results are published on our website, but last year boys achieved 86% 7-9 grades at GCSE (with a stunning 42% of grades at the new "9" top level) and 90% A*/B at A Level. Most proceed to Russell Group universities with a significant proportion to Oxbridge. Boys go on to study a wide range of subjects reflecting the breadth of the curriculum that Abingdon provides.

Admission is by selection and the school is over-subscribed. Abingdon is a popular choice for aspirational families. Many are attracted by our academic standards, certainly, but also the huge and dynamic 'Other Half' (extra-curricular) programme we offer. All colleagues participate in the programme and the school places considerable importance on the many benefits of the Other Half and its role in developing the whole person.

Pastoral care is strong. Each boy from the Third Year to the Sixth Form belongs to one of nine houses under the care of his Housemaster. He will be mixing with other boys from all year groups. He will also belong to a tutor group and his tutor will be a key person in his life. The lower school boys are in their own House where they are carefully nurtured and looked after during their important transition to secondary school. We believe that by offering these structures we are able to provide comprehensive academic and pastoral support. Boarding is an exciting option from the age of 13 and boarders live in one of our three houses. Many come from abroad and the international dimension greatly enriches our community.

The School occupies a large and beautiful campus. Facilities are excellent with recent significant developments including a new Sixth Form Centre, library and Art department which followed the opening of a stunning Science Centre in 2015. New facilities for Economics and Business Studies and Computer Science are due to open in autumn 2020. We have also recently added to our extensive sport facilities at Tilsley Park and on the school campus which now offer some of the best sport resources in the area. The Foundation benefits from a continuous refurbishment and redevelopment plan, adding further impressive facilities to a very well-resourced school.

The typical Abingdon boy is engaging, motivated and confident. This is a cohesive community; respect for one another is a strong feature and values such as courtesy and consideration for others are paramount. Colleagues enjoy teaching here and the boys appreciate the calibre of their teachers. It is a very happy school.

We operate a fortnightly timetable. Lessons are 55 minutes long with an extended lunchtime, there are many opportunities for Other Half time and time for academic mentoring, etc. The school day runs from 8.35 am to 5.20 pm, with the end of the day from 3.40 pm devoted to Other Half activities along with Wednesday afternoons. The commitment to supporting our extensive Saturday afternoon sports programme continues. All teaching staff are expected to contribute fully to the Other Half programme throughout the week and many will be involved on Saturday. When not involved in a regular team sport, teaching staff will still need to be available from time to time on Saturday for duty, Open Days, Taster Mornings, etc.

We may be over 760 years old but we are a forward-looking, dynamic school. There is quiet pride amongst those who attend and those who work here. Although one of the leading independent schools in the UK, we are not complacent and we are continually looking to improve. Part of this drive is to recruit high calibre professionals, who love teaching, and who want to join our strong staff and work with our wonderful pupils. We welcome therefore ambitious and energetic applicants who are keen to develop their career further.

I do hope that you might be tempted to apply. I recognise that much time and thought goes into preparing an application and we, in turn, will give your application serious consideration.

TEACHING AT ABINGDON

The following outlines what might be seen as the 'normal' expectations of a member of the teaching staff at Abingdon as well as listing some of the benefits available as a member of the Common Room. Job specifications for those holding posts of specific responsibility are held separately.

- Teaching a subject or subjects as agreed at appointment throughout the range at the school (i.e. from Year 7 to Year 13). A normal teaching load would usually approximate to around 70-75% of the academic timetable, leaving time free for marking and preparation. Reductions in teaching load are given to some posts that carry an additional administrative responsibility (e.g. Head of Department, Housemaster) but should not necessarily be seen as being automatic. Many teachers also contribute to the General Studies programme at 6th form level, either by offering an option course, an additional GCSE (such as PE or Italian) or participating in the delivery of the compulsory core of topics that we offer. Some teachers also contribute to the PSHCE programme in years 9 and 10 which is delivered within the timetabled curriculum.
- Contributing as appropriate to departmental activities and developments, such as trips, additional classes, lectures and other events that contribute to the life of a busy and dynamic department.
- Commitment to the regular setting and marking of homework and the maintenance of an up-to-date mark book. Contributing to exam marking as required by the Head of Department, including the marking and supervision, as appropriate, of Abingdon's entrance exams. Writing formal reports on pupils and tutees five times a year.
- Acting as a tutor to a group of boys within a House, as directed by the Deputy Head (Pastoral), with primary responsibility for their pastoral care and for some of the delivery of the school's PSHCE programme.
- Contributing, as agreed with the Second Master and the Director of the Other Half, to the School's Other Half programme.
- Being available to work on days that fall outside the Monday to Friday daytime academic pattern, to support the provision of activity for the boys, including on Saturdays. Examples include accompanying boys on trips out of school, supervising boys on sporting activities (with refereeing or coaching provided by a separate specialist), and welcoming visitors and prospective pupils on Open Days and Entrance Exam Days.
- Contributing to cover for absent colleagues and invigilation of internal and external examinations, as directed by the Master i/c cover.
- Contributing to Private Study supervision of Sixth Formers, as required by the Upper Master.
- Acting as part of the duty team to oversee elements of the daily supervision of the boys outside of the classroom, both on weekdays and on Saturdays, as directed by the Deputy Head (Pastoral).
- Staff members who are attached to one of the School's Boarding Houses have additional duties in the evenings and at weekends.

BENEFITS OF WORKING AT ABINGDON

- Abingdon has its own 15-point salary scale, above the national scale. In 2019/2020 the basic salary range is £27,948 to £56,549. In addition to this, the School allocates Special Responsibility Allowances for a number of additional responsibilities, ranging from the running of a minor sport up to major responsibilities, such as Heading a Department or House. These vary in value, from £1,092 for minor positions up to £8,736 for the major ones.
- All new staff are well supported when they arrive, with help and advice available not just from Heads of Department, Housemasters and Senior Staff but also from the School's Professional Tutor and Director of Teaching & Learning who jointly have a specific responsibility to oversee the induction process.
- The School offers excellent administrative support, with two dedicated Common Room secretaries, and a range of other Bursarial services. Staff are loaned a school laptop or Chromebook and/or they have access to desktop computers to assist with their teaching and administration. There is a biennial cycle of professional development meetings based on a portfolio of evidence collected in the intervening time as well as myriad opportunities to reflect on professional practice and to seize on development opportunities.
- The School is committed to high quality ICT facilities and has bookable IT suites, Interactive White Boards in a large number of classrooms, data projectors in all rooms and a dedicated Director of e-Learning who is available to support and develop the provision of ICT across the whole curriculum.
- The school is very stable, currently enjoying high demand for places and is backed by strong financial planning that enables all departments to be very well resourced. In recent years we have been investing heavily in a building programme to develop our facilities. Major projects have included a new Sports Centre (2008) and a new Science Centre (2015). Moving Science to a new building enabled us to refurbish the vacated space and in September 2016 we opened substantially upgraded spaces for our Geography, History and Classics departments as well as for two day huserooms. Our most recent project involved a completely new build (Beech Court) comprising a new sixth form centre, a new Library and a relocated Art Department. This opened in September 2018. At the same time we relocated the Common Room and completed the substantial reorganisation of our campus which has provided many departments with greatly enhanced facilities. Our latest project is a new building to house Economics, Business Studies and Computer Science which is due to open in Autumn 2020.

Staff Development

Abingdon prides itself on the commitment it makes to developing its teaching staff. This can be seen in a variety of ways:

- We have a very strong track record in taking on unqualified teachers (or 'pre-qualified', as we call them) and training them to become outstanding practitioners. We are very open to taking on teachers who have just finished their degrees but are also keen to receive applications from people considering a career change into teaching. Following an Abingdon-based course in their first year, our PQTs will usually undertake a PGCE, funded by the School, in their second year with us and then go on to complete their induction year.
- Our Director of Teaching & Learning and the team of assistant DTLs provide a support that underpins all we do in teaching. Together they provide training and advice for teachers, whatever stage of their career they are at, acting as mentors and coaches for the whole teaching staff.
- We have a generous annual INSET budget and encourage teachers to subscribe to external CPD courses and undertake further qualifications. In addition to this, the School operates up to five INSET days itself, offering a range of further training, from highly practical First Aid qualifications to seminars on aspects of Teaching and Learning.
- We have a sabbatical policy that allows established teaching staff to apply for a half term of paid leave (usually in the summer term) for them to pursue a development project of their own choosing.
- We believe strongly in distributed leadership and there are over 100 positions in the school that teachers take on beyond their teaching role in which they can show and develop their leadership skills. We have a healthy staff turnover (10-15% per year) but it is particularly noteworthy that the vast majority of staff who move on to other schools are doing so because they have won major leadership posts, for example as Head of Department, Housemaster, Deputy Head or Head.

Additional Benefits

- Relocation allowance up to £2,500, by agreement with the Director of Finance & Operations (qualifying criteria apply, for further details please request a copy of the Relocation Policy).
- 50% discount on school fees at Abingdon Prep and Senior Schools for permanent* employees whose sons satisfy Abingdon's admissions criteria (pro rata for part-time staff).
- Private health insurance (taxable as a benefit in kind).
- Membership of the Abingdon Sports and Leisure Club with free access to the gym and swimming pool at agreed times.
- Access to an Employee Assistance Programme (EAP) and a Health Risk Assessment (HRA) tool.
- Lunch and other refreshments during the school day.

* Permanent employees are considered to be staff working under a contract of employment of a year's duration or more.

Accommodation

The school has limited accommodation available, but will always endeavour to help where it can. Members of staff who live within boarding houses as residential boarding staff usually live rent free and do not pay for council tax or utilities. The rent, council tax and water elements of this benefit in kind are not subject to tax however the heat and light elements of the utilities are subject to tax and the value of the benefit will be declared on the annual P11D.

Members of staff who undertake boarding supervisory duties in the evenings and weekends and live in school accommodation usually receive rent free accommodation which is not subject to tax as a benefit in kind. However the tax exemption does not extend to council tax and utilities, therefore staff in this category make a monthly contribution to the cost of council tax, water, gas and electric which is recovered directly from their salary.

The Physics Department

The Physics department is a large and very successful department within the school, comprising fourteen Physics teachers and two technicians. The department occupies the middle floor of a purpose-built Science Centre. The teaching accommodation consists of seven laboratories, a project room and breakout spaces. There is also a spacious office with desks for all staff giving a supportive atmosphere and allowing collaboration within the team. A well-equipped prep room and experienced technician team allows teachers within the department to fully integrate practical activities into their lessons.

Physics teaching at Abingdon is fully supported by the use of ICT. All teachers have a MacBook laptop and each laboratory has two data projectors, one of which is connected to a visualiser and Apple TV. Within the department, two laboratories have desktop iMacs for student use and all labs have access to a suite of fifteen MacBook laptops with Vernier data-logging equipment.

A very large number of boys choose to study A-level Physics; this year we have seven sets in the Lower Sixth and five sets in the Upper Sixth all following the Edexcel A-level specification. Many of the students choose to study Engineering or Physics degree courses at university with a significant number going on to pursue top university courses.

The departmental exam results have been consistently excellent. In 2019, 69% of A-Level grades were A* or A and nearly 50% of iGCSE grades were a 9. The department also delivers the GCSE Electronics course with 74% of grades being a 9 in 2019.

We offer an extensive timetable of support and extension classes to students of all ages. Any applicant therefore must be capable of teaching the cleverest students to the highest standard whilst also having the patience and humility to explain difficult concepts to students who find Physics more challenging. The department has a full programme of trips and lectures throughout the year including an annual Sixth Form residential to Geneva.

In years 7 and 8, all pupils study basic concepts in Physics and Engineering. Once in year 9, all boys begin their iGCSE course, before opting, either for three separate science iGCSEs or science plus additional science iGCSEs in years 10 and 11. In each year there are typically eight sets studying iGCSE Physics and two sets doing the Double Award Physics course. Students are streamed by ability from year 9 onwards with maximum class sizes at GCSE of 24 pupils. In Sixth Form we study the Edexcel A-level course with a maximum of 16 students per class. We also offer GCSE Electronics in the middle school with 53 students having picked this in the current year 10 cohort.

This is an exciting time to be joining one of the largest school Physics departments in the country. Having recently moved into a state of the art teaching facility, the focus is now on ensuring consistent excellence in teaching and learning across all age groups. The ethos of the department has remained the same for many years with enthusiastic staff delivering an enriched learning experience which is highly valued by the students.
