This position is suitable for NQT/ECTs.

Person Specification

The successful candidate will:

- be an inspiring, creative and passionate teacher whose practice is rooted in Quality First Teaching and will share our belief in the importance of supporting and developing the whole child.
- believe in Inspired's approach to education where academic performance, sporting opportunities and creative arts are given equal status throughout the child's school experience.
- have experience of successfully teaching Psychology to IBDP Level and/or A-Level and will be able to demonstrate the value they have added to the outcomes of pupils under their care.
- be excited by the prospect of working for a school judged under the BSO framework to be "outstanding in all areas" and explain what they can bring to that environment.
- be committed to working collaboratively with pupils, parents and peers to achieve the best pupil outcomes possible.
- be able to adapt teaching methods to support and drive the progress of pupils whose first language may not be English.
- be a dedicated team player, with a "can-do" attitude who contributes positively to the general working environment and possesses an eagerness to contribute to the wider life of the school including enrichment and extracurricular activities.
