

Dear Candidate

Thank you for expressing an interest in a position at our school.

Fallibroome is an amazing school with a long track record of success. We are incredibly proud of our students' achievements and our teaching and support staff work very hard to help them in all of their endeavours.

We benefit from a very strong local and national reputation as a centre for excellence and we are particularly fortunate to enjoy first rate facilities right across the school site. We also have an established and successful programme of professional development for colleagues at all levels of the organisation. We are the lead school in our Multi-Academy Trust and this work brings a range of interesting opportunities for staff who wish to develop their leadership skills in different contexts. All of this makes Fallibroome an exciting and vibrant place in which to work and develop your career.

Our application pack includes a range of information that I hope that you find useful in getting an overview of our school. However, perhaps the best illustration of our quality and values is provided by our recently completed video. This is available on our website or at <https://vimeo.com/184973702>. This video went viral with over a million hits from across the world and it also featured on BBC North West. We really think that this short film celebrates the special sense of community that we enjoy at Fallibroome and we hope that this inspires you to apply to join us.

I look forward to receiving your application and perhaps meeting you in person if you are called to interview.

Yours faithfully,

FRANCIS POWER
