

Dear Candidate

It is a privilege to introduce myself as the new Director of JESS Dubai and to welcome your interest in joining this remarkable school community.

JESS is a long-standing, not-for-profit institution with a proud heritage and a clear sense of purpose. Since our humble beginnings in 1976, the school has grown from just 17 children in a small apartment building into one of the region's leading international schools, now educating more than 2,500 students across two campuses and three schools.

While much has evolved over the decades, what has remained constant is the spirit that defines JESS: a deep commitment to academic excellence, a strong sense of community, and a belief that education should empower every young person to fulfil their ambitions and shape the future with confidence.

As we look ahead, we are building on this extraordinary legacy while continuing to innovate and grow. At the heart of this journey are our people. Exceptional teachers and staff create the culture, relationships, and opportunities that allow our students to thrive. At JESS, collaboration is strong, ambition is shared, and every member of the community plays an important role in shaping the experience of our learners.

We are looking for talented, committed professionals who are passionate about education and who share our belief in the transformative power of schools. In return, JESS offers an inspiring environment where staff are valued, supported, and encouraged to grow professionally while making a meaningful difference in the lives of young people.

If you are excited by the opportunity to be part of a dynamic and ambitious school community, I warmly encourage you to explore this role and consider joining us.

I look forward to welcoming the next generation of exceptional educators to JESS.

Warm regards,

Rebecca Glover

Director
