

Ethos and School Values

For more than 100 years, Abraham Lincoln School has combined a respect for tradition with individual with the warmth of a small community.

We are on a continual process of re-invention and renewal. While we celebrated our 100th anniversary in 2017, we like to believe that we are young in spirit and that our best years still lie ahead.

In our school, honesty and integrity matter, humour and hard work are equally important values and the process of education is as important as the grade.

Central to our efforts to build an intellectual community is our dedicated faculty. Intensely devoted to the success of their students, the faculty serves as teachers, coaches, advisors, mentors and friends.

In every area of school life, the faculty seeks to challenge and inspire students to reach new levels of enquiry and understanding.

We are a school community of high expectations, academic and otherwise. At the same time, we are devoted to helping students develop in intellectual, artistic and personal interests that will allow them to have lives of constructive service to society.
