

Dear teacher,

A warm welcome you from Mexico City!

The Wingate School (TWS) always is interested in hearing from enthusiastic and well-prepared educators who wish to share their expertise with us and our fine pupils.

We are a relatively new British-international school that has rapidly grown, and, indeed, continues to do so in Secondary. Located on a sizeable, beautiful, green site, on the western edge of the city, we receive children from all parts of the globe. The same is true of our collegial staff.

Teaching the IEYC and IPC curriculums – and now also being an accredited Cambridge International School – TWS fuses all these academic programmes with our School of Character. Thus, both the high academic standards and the formation of happy and ethical pupils represent our overarching goals. Significantly, respect is the no.1 rule for all our pupils to follow.

I made my home in this incredible, culturally rich country a good few years ago. That diverse landscape and culture undoubtedly is something also much enjoyed by the new teachers who choose to come to work here.

Should the post being offered, plus your research into TWS and this country attract you, do get in contact!

We extend our best wishes to you as you develop your career in this, our noble profession.

Tom M. J. Wingate (Head Teacher)