The School

The History of the School

Situated in the leafy oasis of the Calthorpe Estate, West House School has occupied the same site since its foundation in 1895. Since that time, the school has evolved significantly, to become an independent preparatory school for boys aged 4 – 11 years, with a co-educational Early Years setting offering care for children aged from 6 months. West House is a member of The Independent Association of Preparatory Schools and, as such, upholds the requirement to provide a 'world class education'.

With five acres of beautiful grounds, less than two miles from Birmingham city centre, the school lies at the heart of a thriving community. It is surrounded by many outstanding cultural and recreational facilities. These enrich the lives of all pupils and form an important aspect of educating the whole child.

Further details about the school can be found at www.westhouseprep.com

The EYFS Department

The Early Years Foundation Stage (EYFS) welcomes both boys and girls from the age of 6 months to 4 years old to an incredibly nurturing environment, supported by extremely generous staff to pupil ratios. Each child receives individual attention from our highly qualified teachers and key people, along with a full-time member of staff responsible for the children's health, safety and welfare.

At West House, we celebrate each child's individuality and unique character, using play to spark their interests and shape a learning plan that's tailor-made just for them. Because, when children feel happy and secure, they're free to explore, grow and take on the world.

Our ethos is built on the belief that every child deserves a strong, joyful start. We encourage natural curiosity and build resilience and confidence, making sure they're emotionally and academically ready to excel in the next stage of life.
