The Animal Management Department sits within the School of Science and Maths, which forms part of the Mond Centre of Excellence for Science and Maths. The Mond Centre was opened by Professor Adrian Dixon, the Master of Peterhouse, Cambridge. Since opening, animal management student numbers have continued to increase and the Centre continues to gain regional and national recognition for its work. The successful candidate will work in our modern and well equipped animal resource centre (ARC) which houses a multitude of different species. They also be working with colleagues in our brand new IDEA Centre, which opened on 19th May 2017. The IDEA Centre is a state of the art building which educates students using some of the most advanced industry standard and methods. The recently refurbished dedicated classrooms provide a professional environment in which students can develop their skills and gain practical experience.

We are seeking to appoint a passionate, enthusiastic and talented Senior Animal Management Technician to join the highly successful team Animal Management team. This post provides an excellent opportunity for an experienced technician/animal handler with a passion for animals and education, recognising that the student experience is at the heart of the college. The successful candidate will work with talented and co-operative colleagues and a supportive management team, which truly believes that outstanding Teaching and Learning are the most important elements of a successful college.
