

KS3 Maths Teacher

Closing date: Monday 27th March 2023

Located in the beautiful Turks and Caicos Islands, our small, friendly school invites applicants for the position of KS3 Maths Teacher.

Providenciales Primary & Middle School is an independent community school in the Turks and Caicos Islands. Our Primary School has operated on Providenciales for over 30 years, with our Middle School opening five years ago. Our vision for education stems from an ambition for all students to experience a truly hands on and creative approach to learning. We aim for students to drive their own learning by providing opportunities for student choice, exploration and investigation. We offer an adapted UK curriculum that is reflective of our setting in both the Caribbean and the world.

Required from September 2023, Providenciales Middle School is looking to appoint a committed and inspiring teacher to join our excellent KS3 teaching team. The role will be split into the following key areas of responsibility:

- You will be responsible for the teaching of Mathematics across KS3 to engage and inspire our eager learners.
- You will act as a form tutor for one of our KS3 classes.
- We would be interested to hear of any additional subject specialisms/experience that would aid the delivery of our cross-curricular and thematic KS3 programme. Interest/experience in Business Studies, History or Geography would be of particular interest.

Providenciales Middle School boasts a supportive community of staff and parents who work together for the benefit of all pupils. Academic standards in the school are high and we attribute this to our wonderful team of teachers, who work to nurture our children's inherent talents, natural curiosity and love of learning.

If you are seeking a chance to work within an exciting educational environment, Providenciales Middle School can offer rich personal and professional opportunities.

You will need to:

- be an excellent and motivated classroom practitioner, focused on engaging and inspiring a love of learning;
- commit to working as a team member as part of our all-through provision that covers Early Years to Key Stage 3;
- hold QTS and have a minimum of two years' experience;
- be an effective communicator with staff and parents;
- be a resourceful and innovative practitioner, able to tailor classroom learning to the needs of your pupils.

We can offer:

- small classes of friendly and enthusiastic children with a positive attitude to learning (typically 15-20 students per class);
- modern and vibrant KS3 curriculum, tailored to our location in the Turks & Caicos Islands;
- a clear and engaging vision for teaching and learning;
- a commitment to constantly improve and innovate as a school;
- a valued place within an experienced and dedicated staff team.
